Conference Follows News From Paris of Briand Taking Helm; Brings Hopeful Report

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS

GENEVA, March 9.—A sudden consultation between Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, and Chancellor Luther and Dr. Stresemann of the German delegation immediately after receipt of the news from Paris that M. Briand had agreed to form a new Cabinet was the most striking development tonight in the League of Nations Council crisis.

"We hope the League of Nations will be settled in a few days," said a German statesman tonight to the Associated Press correspondent after the conference. The spokesman of the British group declared that the Minister had "had a clear and friendly conversation" and announced that an agreement had been reached by the Rhine pact signatories who were present.

M. Briand telephoned M. Paul-Boncour tonight authorizing him to go on with the negotiations, in which the Germans are taking part.

BALM JUDGMENT IS SOUGHT

Attorney for Mrs. Brewster Seeks to Attach Funds of Corliss Palmer in California

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, March 9.—Mrs. Eleanor C. Brewster today remained in her home on Long Island, while her attorney, Charles S. Tuttle, was engaged in trying to collect any part of a $200,000 judgment by default, which she obtained yesterday in the Supreme Court against Miss Corliss Palmer, motion-picture actress, for the asserted alienation of the affections of Eugene V. Brewster, former Brooklyn lawyer, magazine publisher and film producer.

Mr. Tuttle, it was said, had not reached Mrs. Brewster's home, but had been in touch with her.

Large verdicts in cases where there is no defense usually amount to nothing more than a moral victory, because they are uncollectable. Mr. Tuttle, however, believes, as a result of yesterday's verdict in favor of the aggrieved wife, he will be able to collect considerable from Miss Palmer, who is now living in the Hollywood film colony. She won the beauty contest that Brewster conducted several years ago.

Under the law of New York, Miss Palmer will turn out to be liable in some money will make considerable difference in the aggregate which Mrs. Brewster may eventually collect on the $200,000 judgment.

MRS. MCCORMICK WINS SUIT

Court Announces Dismissal of Action to Prevent Her Obtaining $7,500,000 Rockefeller Trust Fund

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

INDIANAPOLIS, March 9.—Harold F. McCormick's suit to prevent his former wife, from obtaining $7,500,000 of Standard Oil stock, derived from a trust fund set aside by John D. Rockefeller for his son, was dismissed today. It was announced today by Judge Arthur T. Morgan, of the United States District Court here, that the stock was treated as part of the original trust fund of 12,000 shares of oil stock. At the time Mr. Rockefeller established the trust fund in 1917, the stock in controversy was worth only $12,000.

Under the trust fund, Mrs. McCormick was to be the life tenant and receive the income from the original investment, after $30,000 annually had been deducted for Mr. McCormick. The Equitable Trust Company of New York trustee for the fund, in 1924, accounted for $7,500 to Mrs. McCormick as income. It was to prevent the allocation to Mr. McCormick brought the suit.

These persons point out that with the trust fund, her demand it would be illogical for Spain to dream of resigning from the League if, for example, the solitary vote of Sweden made her promotion to a permanent seat unrealizable for the political world.

CHICAGO, March 9.—Miss Edith Rockefeller McCormick, his former wife, from obtaining $5,000,000, which might have gone to her children, and grandchild, as a result of a court announcement at Indianapolis today that the suit of her former husband, Harold F. McCormick, would be dismissed.

The suit would be dismissed, said a statement from Miss McCormick's attorneys, for lack of jurisdiction.

DISARMAMENT MOVE STARTED

Commission Aims to Assure Americans

Full Membership Indicated for United States

Meeting Date Tentatively Set for May 17

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)

GENEVA, March 9.—A move toward disarmament has been made, calculated to assure American membership on the League of Nations technical committee, especially the Military and Naval Committee, which will advise with the preparatory commission for a disarmament conference.

Indications today were that at the first meeting of the preparatory commission, the United States will be represented as a full-fledged member, probably in May.

The League's permanent military committee is limited in its membership to States represented in the Council, and there was considerable questioning here as to how to give a voice to this committee to other countries which have been invited to participate in the preliminary studies.

These other nations include the United States, Germany and Russia as nonmembers of the League, and Bulgaria, Finland, Holland, Poland, Romania and Yugoslavia as members.

Our Government sent a communication to the Council suggesting that in order to avoid misunderstandings, all the participants in the preliminary studies should be on equal footing. The League's technical committee.

CONGRESS IMPROVES ITS CHANCE TO QUIT MAY 1

Administration Program Rapidly Being Enacted, With Politics Only Obstacle in Path

BY KYLE D. PALMER
"Times" Staff Correspondent
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, March 9.—With Muscle Shoals out of the way, disposed of in the manner suggested by President Coolidge in his annual message of last December, the condition of Congressional business has distinctly improved. It will be possible for Congress to complete the program on which it is working in time to adjourn on May 1, next, if the various bills were to make up its mind to do so. The House offers regarding the four other items has improved.

For example, where a week ago the Italian and other debt settlements seemed seriously jeopardized by the opposition of Senator Borah and various other Republicans and Democrats, convincing evidence that has been presented that if the Italian compact is not, and probably will—cease paying anything, has brought a change in the situation. All of these course for a disarmament conference. All of these recommendations have been enacted.

Approval of the foreign debt funding arrangements, enactment of the aircraft program, agricultural relief and railway legislation came next in order. The President suggested an enactment authorizing consolidation of railroad under the supervision of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Senate believe that at an opportune time in the near future all of the pending debt settlements will be brought up and ratified without material delay.

HARD GOING AHEAD

For relief, the railroad labor bill and the aircraft bill embodying the essentials of the Morgan program are in the legislative hopper, but all are making steady advances toward final passage.

Farm relief and the aircraft bill, of course, will have hard going in the Senate, particularly, and may be somewhat disengaged before they get through.

The appropriation bills, although far behind the record established last year, still are farther forward than usual in the year of the election.

Under the farm co-operative act, the railroad labor bill, the extension of the Morrow aircraft bill and the one carrying the appropriations already have been passed by Congress, namely, the one carrying the appropriations for the Post office and Treasury departments and the general deficiency bill. The House has passed only one measure on the list of which two, the Navy and the Agricultural departments immediately thereafter.

A true peasant is one who has actually given up hope of advancement, who is not even on the first rung of the ladder of success."

DRIVER LEAVES LOAD TO BURN

FIFTY-FOUR Cases of Liquor Found Under Flaming Artichokes

The War Department appropriation now, therefore, the second to pass, is the one which the Appropriations Committee has been working on since last fall.

PROGRESS MADE

The President in his message also suggested a Shipping Board legislation of the sort that Secretary Hoover yesterday urged before Congress. The possibility of something being done along these lines seems brighter. The President also renewed his recommendation for legislation granting authority to deal with coal strikes, something on which no action has been taken.

The President's general plan for development of Muscle Shoals, as set forth in his latest message to Congress, and from which it was said today, he has not departed, follows:

"The problem of Muscle Shoals seems to me to have assumed a place all out of proportion to its real importance. It probably does not represent a market value much greater than a million dollars, yet it favors a contract by which the government may turn the project over to a private agency capable of developing it to the best advantage of the country.

California and Other Delegations Busy Seeking New Line-up; Linked to State Effort

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Reapportionment of Congressional districts, neglected since 1921 and actively opposed by sections of the United States destined to lose representation by a constitutional redistribution of Congressional seats based on the Federal census of 1920, again is to become a live issue in the House of Representatives.

Following a conference today of representatives that a movement to have the House take action on the question through a measure to be submitted to the people has found support throughout the State, but that inaction in the matter of redistricting Congress is impeding the State's understanding.

It was assured that the California delegation is a unit in demanding and working for Congressional reapportionment.

If favorably reported by the Senate committee the Barbour bill will be reintroduced, having been introduced over other legislation and will reach a vote in a comparatively brief time.

Informal assurances from leaders in the Senate indicate that any re-

California Representatives have been joined in their reapportionment battle by the delegations of five other States, including Ohio, Michigan and Washington.

TARIFF INQUIRY ACTION TAKEN

Senate Asks Commission to Produce Minutes

Democratic Chief Will Seek Second Investigation

Letter Provokes Assault on Member from Floor

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, March 9.—The first step in the long-heralded investigation of the Tariff Commission was taken today when the Senate adopted the Smoot resolution requiring the commission to produce its minutes.

At the same time, Senator Robinson, Arkansas, the Democratic leader, served notice that he would call up his resolution tomorrow authorizing an investigation of the commission's work by the administration.

Senator Robinson unleased another attack on the commission when Glassie, whom he terms "a nominal Democrat favoring a high tariff," and that he was "responsible for the breakdown of the commission."

LETTER PROVOKES ATTACK

His assault was provoked by a letter from the commissioner, taking him to task for a speech made in the Senate several days ago. Demanding an investigation which he said would prove that the Senator's charges were without foundation, Commissioner Glassie inquired: "Is not this the Senator's notion of 'play' that such statements about me may go to the floor of the Senate when the Senator admitted that he had no personal knowledge of the facts?

"Surely a charge such as this should not be made without offering some proof of it," the letter continued. "Any statement that I am a nominal Democrat or an advocate of high protective tariff rates is not true. I, as well as other members of the Tariff Commission, are pro-tariff. I stated that I welcome an investigation of the administration of the flexible provisions of the Tariff Act in all its modifications.

DEMANDS INQUIRY

"It needs only a word from Congress to make these minutes accessible to all. Once open, they will demonstrate clearly and indubitably the charges which you are now repeating are without foundation. Is justice not only to myself, but to other members of the commission, an immediate and thorough investigation should be made. In truth, it seems to me that under the circumstances I have a right to demand such an investigation, and I trust that you will insist upon it, and that you will insist upon it being made without delay."

Senator Robinson told the Senate he accepted the challenge of Commissioner Glassie. He then renewed his charge that Glassie by his own vote had qualified himself to pass on the sugar schedule after the sugar committee had voted that he was not qualified because his family was personally interested.

"He could not have done so if he had done what any honorable man would have done."

Autoist Whose Machine Killed Rauch Cleared

A Coroper's fury yesterday exonerated C. J. Shubert, Jr., 330 South Grand avenue, in connection with the death of Morris Rauch, restauranteur man and formerly owner of the Green Mill at Culver City.

Rauch died of injuries suffered when he was struck by Shubert's automobile at Seventh and Bixel streets Saturday morning. It was determined that Rauch's condition was confused at the place because of an accident which had just occurred a block away.

Shubert was said, was driving at the rate of only twelve to fifteen miles an hour when Rauch, apparently hurrying to the cinema, stepped off the curb into the path of the car. The inquest was held at the Fierce Brothers' Undertaking Company.

Funeral services for Rauch, who leaves his widow, will be conducted by the Elks at 2 p.m. today, it was said.

ACTIVITIES OF LIQUOR SHIP MAY BE EXPOSED

VESSEL'S CARGO SAID TO HAVE BEEN BROKEN OFF COAST OF CALIFORNIA

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

VANCOUVER (B.C.) March 9.—An exposé of all circumstances and conditions attached to the arrival here in January, 1924, of the liquor cargo Ardenna is expected as a result of Hon. H. H. Stevens, chairman of the Canadian Customs Investigation Commission, demanding that the papers in connection with this ship and her cargo be forwarded to Ottawa to be dealt with by the commission.

The Ardenna was a ship that came out from England with 60,000 cases of liquor. On arrival at Victoria nearly eight months after she left England, her papers showed that she had broken cargo, the cost of California. On board the ship were 5000 cases of liquor and the Canadian customs men seized the ship and cargo awaiting orders from Ottawa.

The ship was later released, and soon returned to Canada, but the liquor was put into bonded warehouses. Later duty was paid on some of it and it was shipped out of the country, but about 6000 cases remained in Victoria.

When $20 a case had to be paid for goods that cost them $4 a case in London, it was no longer profitable to export this liquor.

SUSPECT ASSERTED ON SAN QUENTIN PAROLE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW ORLEANS (La.) March 9.—Albert E. Walker, alias Dr. M. H. Remington, who is asserted to have admitted he was on parole from San Quentin penitentiary, was arrested here by Federal authorities charged with counterfeiting a Federal office and with passing a worthless draft on a fictitious bank at Washington, D. C. Walker registered at the Del Soto Hotel, one of the smart hosteries here, according to the San Francisco Daily News.

Remington, and aroused suspicion when it is asserted, he displayed cards which stated he represented the United States Department of Justice and the United States Public Health Service.

Uger Defeats De Haute in Semifinal Bout

BY PAUL LOWLY

Johnny Brown, the bantamweight champion of England, has little in his suit case to go with his title, except that he dropped every round of the ten.

Brown fought against Bud Taylor, Vernon, last night, and won too easily.

The only thing that saved him was a batch of three preliminary bouts.

The apparent absence of Brown was courage and stamina. He was just as fresh at the end of the tenth round as he was when the bell sounded the close of the first round.

But Brown, though he had absorbed a murderous assortment of blows, kept his feet under conditions that would have sent many fighters sprawling on the floor.

He was on the verge of a knockout in the third round.

Except for crossing his arms over his face when Taylor got the drop on him, Brown's defense was poor.

But weary and bloody, Brown kept going along, and in the ninth round he received a big check when he chased Taylor across the ring.

Tommy Miller of Scotland, welterweight and middleweight champion of Europe, today withdrew from a proposed title match with Mickey Walker when he informed the State Athletic Commission that he could not make the 147-pound weight limit of the division.

As a result the commission recommended to Matchmaker Jess McMahon that he match Willie Harmon of New York and Joe Dundee of Baltimore, Mr. for a bout at Madison Square Garden May 7, to determine the challenger for the welterweight crown.

Willie Ames, manager of Miller, told the commission that it weakened the Scotchman too much to fight at that weight and he also said Miller will renounce the European welterweight championship.

With what promises to be the best track meet in Southern California this year as the feature, U.S.C. and California athletic teams will compete in four different sports here on a carnival on the 18th and 20th inst. The battle between Dean Cornwell's L.C.A.A.A. champions and Walter Christie's nifty Golden Bear runners looks as one of the most important track battles on the coast.

LOW FORTY:
Brown's only match which was nearly the same was a right to the left, which he probably landed in the floor during the fray.

He was weary and bloody, and his legs pegging along, and he was unable to get through Taylor across the ring, fighting with lefts and rights, and a couple enough to impress Taylor, who proceeded to hit Brown with a blowout in the house.

Brown's title was not at stake, but both of the boys came in the lightweight limit.

they showed it.

The collegians displayed a big left-hander, Bud Teachout,

with a high, hard one,

who had the tribe eating out of his hand for five innings.

A base on balls and a home run by Fussy Huff, Western for the lone Indian scores off

Teachout, while Cliff Boyd,

"Hungry," they call him, had

"shown only one run."

Steve Chuckaluk had trouble

when he relieved Boyd, however,

The rooks got another run, then

Women Celebrate Anniversary at Hacienda Club

BY BILL WISE
George Von Elm, starring for J. C. Hattler's fast traveling Rancho team, was home in 70 yesterday to lead in the 11½-to-3½ defeat handed the Midwick invaders in the final post-season game of the season, the game, incidentally, that golfers at the eleventh hour elected Rancho as Southern California team champions for this season.

Playing with Von Elm aided materially in the best half of 31 that carried the Rancho first twoomes through the turn despite the fact that Dr. Paul Hunter and Bob Hunter of Midwick were playing championship golf. The best ball of the foursome cut was 28.

Leon Kellar and Frank Clark defeated G. Parker Toms and E. B. Armstrong two holes in the second team set-to, while Bob White and Jess Pursey divided three points with J. J. Motheshead and A. W. Brink of Midwick.

J. C. Hattler's team captain, and Brandon Eldridge won all three ways from A. K. Bourne and W. R. Tait. I. A. Thorson and Jack Noble increased the Rancho total with a two-way win from Frank Miller and C. Lathrop.

MRS. ELLIOTT AND MRS. WORKS AWAKE

Mrs. L. B. Elliott, one of the best golfers shooting under Wm. P. Hunter's Brentwood trophy, let the Class A field in the feminine tin-whistle tournament for club members yesterday. Mrs. Lewis R. Works, wife of the club's chief executive, won the Class B play.

More than 200 Brentwood women played in the tournament yesterday and the same field will compete today in the special bridge and golf day sponsored by Mrs. John Byers, wife of the architect, now engaged in making the new Brentwood $200,000 home is worth thrice the amount of money expended.

WOMEN CELEBRATE HACIENDA ANNIVERSARY

More than ninety women members of the Hacienda Club took part in the roll and ribbon race to officially celebrate the second anniversary of the club's feminine golf association, yesterday. Many of the members present also qualified 18 holes in the Presidents Cup tourney. Qualifying for the trophies presented by Mrs. C. C. Evans will continue through next Tuesday, with match play weekly, according to Harry Preissler, club pro.

Results of yesterday's features were as follows:

First, Mr. W. J. Goff, second, Mrs. E. R. Cuthbert; third, Mrs. Scott.

First, Miss Florence Bonsu; second, Mrs. Roy Wedderburn; third, Mrs. V. A. Allen.

Whispering Will Amor, of the Hollywood Club, one of the most popular members of the local Professional Golfers' Association, reported seriously injured in an automobile accident, was in a hospital setting alone last night. Bill suffered severe body bruises and was badly cut about the face and head, but will be around in the next few days with no serious risks according to Dr. Burke, his personal friend, who was called to the Hollywood hospital yesterday.

LASWELL AND RANFT OFF FOR TITLE EVENT

Maynard Laswell, national handball champion, and "Murder Ball" Bill Ranft, left yesterday for St. Paul, Minn., to attend the national handball tourney to be held there from March 15 to 20. Laswell will defend the title he has held for the past two years. The competition this year is to be particularly keen. Both members represent the Los Angeles Athletic Club of which they are members. The plan to send a double team East with Laswell and Ranft failed because of the business engagements of the clubmen who are eligible to enter.

LEON DURAY CINCH WINNER, SAYS DOPESTER; WEARS "12"

Aside from being sometimes referred to as "box cars," the number 12, up to date, has had little or no bearing on the English language. But here comes a statistician who says that in his performances and guesses and is willing to wager a flock of hard-earned dough that Leon Duray will not only get down in front of the Culver City race here the 21st inst., but will also wind up with the championship. And all because Leon will cart the number 12 on the side of his panting mount about the various tracks this season.

Says this expert: Harlan Fenster won a great Beverly race in 1923 in culminating record of 116 miles an hour. Later he was almost killed at Indianapolis, escaping death by a miracle. The car was Number 12.

BRANCH MAKES BID FOR TITLE

Grizzly Tracksters to Face Occidental Saturday

California Only Undefeated Squad in Conference

Joe Pipal's Outfit Favored Over Trotter's Entry

Should Harry Trotter's Southern Branch tracksters defeat the Occidental Tigers in their meet next Saturday at Patterson Field, the Grizzlies virtually will have clinched the Southern California conference track championship. However, despite the fact that the Grizzlies defeated the Pomona Sagehens who held Caltech to a tie score, as did the Oxy Tigers, Joe Pipal's Eagle Rock athletes are being favored to capture the coming meet.

When the Tigers were unexpectedly upset by the Engineers, they were suffering from a superiority complex that would return when Saturday rolls around. The Grizzlies, on the other hand, were pepped up for the Pomona meet, with the squad on edge for a week previous to the meet.

Most of the Branch strength lies in Bob Richardson. Last week Richardson won both the 100 and 440, but was all in for the 220, one of his best events. Jim Nash of Oxy with good running and tough runs in the 100 and should win. The same holds good in the 440 with Montgomery and Bailey running for the Tigers. Should the Branch drop those two events, Occidental should cop the meet.

Competing for the Grizzlies are the following men: Richardson, a 16-second man in the century, 22-second man in the furlong and a second in the sprint. He holds a record of close to 56s for the event. He will give Bud Nash of Oxy a battle in the 100, 110, Bailey, Montgomery and Purser a like experience in the 440. He should be in the 220.

Schmidt in the half for Schmid in the half for California will give Goodhart a run for the 5 points that go with a first place, and Drake is conceded a first for the Grizzlies. In the 440, provided Goodhart runs the half, Schmidt's team-mate, Pearcey, should also place. Keefer and Hieber appear to be superior to any of the Oxy boys. Jimmie Peasey, Eddie Boyer and Dees all tied at 11ft. 9in. in the pole vault against Pomona and they are sure to grab a good share of the points in this event from Oxy.

Grizzly weight men are good and should take a second and third in both the shot and discuss which is conceding the first places to the Oxy giant, Jim Coyle.

What's more, the fans won't turn out to see college baseball in spite of the fact that the game as played by the college is not only very good but extremely exciting due to the tendency of the rah-rah boys to explode with a loud pop at the most unexpected moments. Last year U.S.C. and Occidental put on two of the best shows in a series of eleven-lining games, and there wasn't even a fair crowd at either one. This year, they will probably do as well, as both are good clubs again, but when they meet next Tuesday there will probably be little or no crowd in the bleachers to cheer them on.

Up around Palo Alto, and in fact, every place where Stanford and California men are to compete, the games are already spectator, not only conversationally, but in the coin of the realm, on the outcome of the third and final intercollegiate half-mile race between Stanford, California, and Dick Richardson of Stanford. Despite the fact that his long-distance record in the last leg of the relay a year ago, after being nosed out by inches in the half-mile run a few minutes previously.

At around Palo Alto, and in fact, every place where Stanford and California men are to compete, the games are already spectator, not only conversationally, but in the coin of the realm, on the outcome of the third and final intercollegiate half-mile race between Stanford, California, and Dick Richardson of Stanford.

Harvey Snodgrass's Palomar net team will meet the Whittier Tennis Club Sunday afternoon, marking the second game in the Los Angeles Tennis League race. The tournament will be played on the courts of the new Palomar Tennis Club in Cheviot Hills.

FIDEL MAY GO AFTER NEW CROWN

Victory Over Brown Will Send Local Champion After Bantam Laurels

George Blake, manager of Fidel La Barba, world's flyweight champion, will issue a challenge to the world at large to see if the local youth can defeat Vic King, the Australian bantamweight king in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night.

If La Barba beats King by a reasonable margin, he would start a campaign to bring his champion's crown back to his native land.

The main events within nine days of Greb and Sammy Mandell got away with about the same kind of a dash when he was here in January.

Yet on page 25 of the 1926 rules and regulations of the State Athletic Commission of California we are able to read distinctly, because it is stamped in extra-large type:

"MATCHMAKERS, ATTENTION! A period of SEVEN DAYS must elapse between boxing dates of a main or a second-round event. This rule is being strictly enforced."

Enforced against whom? Harry Greb or Sammy Mandell? No, you could be right. That's just what Bud Taylor is different. Bud can't fight two main events in one week, much less three in nine days. He's so far ahead of either Mandell or Greb that a fighter there's no comparison, but this has nothing to do with it. He's not a pet.

Count No. 2 against the Boxing Commission has to do with the Taylor affair, however. Ed Lynch, one of the Dreamland promoters, signed Taylor to meet Vic Foley, Foley's off the bill, but Lynch informed Taylor he needed some one else on the same date, March 19. The contract, we understand, doesn't call for this, but the Boxing Commission orders it.

Another ordering. Taylor is dropped from an Olympic Club engagement here the same week by command of the chairman of the commission. The club was robbed of a $5000 or $6000 contribution to take a $1200 to $1500 job at Dreamland.

Why? Because he isn't a pet. He can't box twice in one week.

Nor are the skirts of Mister Lynch clear. He is the same Lynch—one of the "Four Horsemen"—who perpetrated the Walker-Couper outcome top-bill sequence in March. Eddie Long, Taylor's manager, is willing to have Taylor fight anyone for Lynch March 26, so Taylor can get the honor of being the first to fall for him.

In the other racing events of the day all efforts will be concentrated on uncrowding Ted Simpson, who has drawn the Chrysler-special into the undisputed championship of the Ascot oval for two successive weeks. "Beat Ted Simpson" has become the slogan of all the other drivers, and they have been conceiving divers and varied plots to accomplish this end.

INGLEWOOD SQUAD IN FINAL ROUND

Inglewood High School D basketball team entered the final round of play for the Southern California championship yesterday, defeating Lancaster 25 to 0. The lumbering Leo Lewis, a holder with Stutzman featuring, walked through their rivals without any great opposition. Coach Wescott's hoop artists will engage fleetingly from Saturday until High for the title. The game will probably be played in San Diego.

TED MOORE'S INJURY CANCELS FISTIC CARD

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE) SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—The entire boxing program set for Dreamland Auditorium Friday night was cancelled today by the promoters because of an injury received by Ted Moore, English middleweight one of the main-eventers. Moore was matched with Kid Norfolk, negro boxer from New York, for a ten-round bout.

THREE MORE NATIONS IN DAVIS CUP PLAY

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE) NEW YORK, March 9.—Japan, Mexico and Cuba were added today to the list of 1926 challengers for the Davis Cup, the United States Lawn Tennis Association announced. All three will compete in the American zone preliminaries.

PINKERTON HONORED

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) SANTA ANA, March 9.—"Tuffy" Tyrrell and George B. Labholder, well-known local ball players, no longer were hold-outs today, both having accepted terms with the Tulsa club of the Western League.

CULVER PUCKS FACE RINKS

The Culver City hockey team will have its last chance to climb into second place in the California Hockey Association tomorrow night when it meets the league-leading Palais de Glace team at the Palais in the next to the last game of the scheduled season.

If Lloyd Cook's Realtors, who are playing their best hockey of the season at present, can break through the leaders they will have a 10-point total in the standings on a par with the Richfield team which now holds down second place. If the Richfield team, in turn, is beaten by the Palais next

KOTSONAROS TO GET ROUGH

Montana Tosser in Verbal Clash With Londos Over Foul Play; Grapplers Mix at Olympic Monday

While Jimmy Londos has been placing the blame for two slightly discolored optics and numerous other bruises and cuts he received in his last battle with George Kotsonaros, to alleged foul tactics employed by the Montana grappler, Kotsonaros paused in his training routine yesterday to make a few statements of his own in reply to the taunts of the "Giant Killer."

"I am totally at a loss to understand the fans in Los Angeles," said Kotsonaros. "Londos seems to be such a popular idol that any foul tactics used by him meet with the approval of the audience while an opponent always comes in for a lot of boos whenever he tries to meet London at his own game."

"London has not started this rough stuff in our bout I would have lost. He was continually jabbing at my face and rather than get my eyes poked out, I closed them when made that jump for the flying kick. London stopped short and I came down on my head. I don't know what happened after that."

Kotsonaros says, however, that he is perfectly willing to fight it with Londos if the "Giant Killer" wants to use tactics Monday night in their return match. That virtually assures the fans of another rough-and-tumble battle like they staged a month ago which had the fans on the edge of their seats from start to finish.

An American company is leveling a small mountain near Rio de Janeiro to permit the building of an addition to the city.

Southern Branch Meets Loyola Baseball Team on Lions' Field Today

TIFF IS DEBUT FOR GRIZZLIES

Coach Caddy Works Has Fast Nine This Year

Infield and Outfield Rates High in League

Conference Season Now But One Month Away

With a month of hard preliminary training tucked away, the local University of California baseball team will make its initial appearance this afternoon against the Loyola Lions et al. The tilt is the first of a series of practice games scheduled by Coach Caddy Works to put the Grizzlies in shape for the opening of the Southern California Conference a month hence.

So far Pats is holding down the regular first-base berth, with Birkenbach at second and Frushling at third. Amestoy is playing a great game at shortstop. Devlin, Tamm and Burns are all showing up well behind the plate. Burns, McDougal, Tierney and Peake make up the outfit.

Works has three good hurlers in Nick Wagner, Al Wagner and Wyman Rogers. Al Wagner and Rogers worked on the conference recently last year, but Nick is fast and strong and promises to be a valuable addition to the hurling staff.

The Southern California Conference season will begin on April 10 and continue through to May 29. Southern Branch was handed a touch package in the draw by picking Occidental. The Tigers are picked to win the conference title hands down with the justly famous Bud Teachout back in the box. Teachout rates as one of the best college pitchers on the Coast.

TAYLOR WHIPS BROWN IN RING

Brown weighed 122 1-4 pounds and Taylor 122.

Paul de Hale's showing against the veteran, Billy Alger, in the semi-wind-up, must have convinced everybody that the Compton lad had won the fight. The margin of victory was very slight and it was only his greater ring knowledge that enabled him to take the bacon. It was a ferociously fought battle, one in which both boys landed hard and often.

CAN TAKE 'EM

De Hale absorbed a couple of right-hand smashers and started everybody in the arena when he failed to drop. Not the least surprised was Alger, who put everything he had behind the blow. However, the pro on stage seemed to inspire De Hale, who leaped forward like a wild man and tore after Alger with both hands. Alger's strength saved him from devastation, but the battle was De Hale's wicked starboard smash.

Joe Layman and Jack Thompson fought six very close rounds to a draw.

In a fast and furious battle Johnny Celmins walked off with a technical two-round knockout over Harry Fischel when the latter's seconds leaped in the towel. Celmins recovered from the left hooks after the latest and wore himself out pasting Celmins with everything he had. Fischel probably could have continued, but was pretty weak and a hard smash might have sent him to dreamland for a long time.

The curtain raiser was too good for spot on the card. Jack Boyle beat Albert Arnold in four rounds. The latter took plenty of punishment in the third round and almost dropped, but he stuck it out to the finish.

Rival Court Teams to Meet Saturday Afternoon; Fresh Also in Match

Pomona tennis stars are training hard for the Occidental conference match slated for Saturday afternoon when the varsity team journeys to the Tiger courts, while the freshies of the Eagle Rock institution make the trip to Claremont.

Dave Hand and his brother Darwin are two individuals who are expected to make the Tiger varsity aces a great deal of trouble. Raymond of Occidental and Stroller are the only two Tiger players who can be counted upon for any points, but even with these two players the Tigers will be allowed only one point in the dual meet, and their only revenge will be expected in the freshman division.

NEW FARM AID PLAN PROPOSED

Meredith Suggests Federal Price Guarantee

Government Commission Would Buy Surplus

Experts Work on Bill for Crop Finance Board

BY AL. P. NIGHTINGALE
WASHINGTON, March 9.—Farm-relief delegates from the Middle West had an intermission today in the presentation of their case to Congress, when Mr. Edwin T. Meredith, Secretary of Agriculture, under President Wilson, outlined a new relief plan to the House Agriculture Committee.

Mr. Meredith suggested a bill to establish an agriculture stabilization commission, which would guarantee the minimum prices on wheat, corn, sugar, cotton, butter and wool. These prices would be "changed up and down each year, or given crop at the demand or lack of demand, may make advisable."

The commission would buy any surplus and dispose of it or store it. But Mr. Meredith explained that the purpose of the commission was to eliminate surplus by stabilizing agriculture through supply and demand and incentive.

To bear the expenses of possible losses in the minimum price guarantee, the government would impose an excise tax of one-half of 1 per cent of the estimated value of each crop annually would be assessed against the farmers. He termed this an "insurance tax."

The delegation then resumes its testimony before the committee tomorrow. Legislative experts are continuing work on a bill embodying the principles favored at the Dec. 15 national-relief meeting of a national board to stabilize crops through an equalization fee to be levied at some point between production and consumption and absorbed at both ends. Indications are that the measure would contain several provisions suggested by members of Congress, including a clause empowering the President to prevent by embargo or by a 100 per cent tariff increase competition of foreign commodities at certain times.

State Central Committee Will Be Given Report on Convention Question

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
SACRAMENTO, March 9.—Claud F. Purkitt, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, today issued a call for a meeting in San Francisco on the 26th inst., to consider the report of a committee of fifteen recently appointed to determine the desirability of holding a State pre-primary convention. In calling the meeting, Judge Purkitt issued the following statement:

"The pre-primary committee of fifteen, before appointed by the chairman, met at San Francisco on February 8, last, and adopted resolutions containing its recommendations to the State Central Committee: That a convention of the Democratic Party be called at a place to be fixed by the State Central Committee at a time prior to the primary election: That seventy-five members of the party from each Congressional district and not less than five from each county, all being registered Democrats for the present year, be selected by the members of the State Central Committee and the respective county committees, in consultation with the respective Congressional districts as delegates to the convention:

That the convention should develop ways and means for promoting party solidarity and efficiency, encourage the candidacies of suitable members of the party for all elective offices, and express the policy of the party with reference to matters of public concern; and also, to be held as soon as possible, call the State Central Committee together for the purpose of receiving this report of the committee of fifteen appointed by the chairman as members of the pre-primary committee."

INCOME TAX FORMS

FOR THE CONVENIENCE of our patrons and the public we have reproduced in facsimile and printed an ample supply of Form 1040 (for net incomes over $5,000).

The SECURITY form meets the provisions of the Revenue Act of 1926. It takes the place of both the form in black ink, and the amending form in red ink: This makes it simpler and easier to follow and to fill out.

FREE, of course. The time is short, the official supply of blanks is limited; the double blank offered by the government is difficult and complicated, so we have prepared these special forms to facilitate the preparation and filing of Income Tax Returns, which must be in by March 15.

PROVINCES VOICE PROTEST

Atlantic Sections of Canada Cite Asserted Reversal of East-and-West Trade Policy

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HALIFAX (N.S.) March 9.—The Maritime provinces—New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island—are threatening withdrawal from the Dominion of Canada as protest against what they term broken promises, made at the time of Confederation in 1867.

Spokesmen for the three Provinces say they will withdraw from any "movement" to withdraw from federated Canada, but the people in this section of the country are being forced into this position by a reversal of the east-and-west policy, which was one of the main planks in the platform which united the separate Provinces into a Dominion nearly sixty years ago.

The east-and-west policy referred to is the clause in the confederation which requires all sections of the country to consider the welfare of every other section in the matter of trade. The provinces concerned, however, have no illusions in the matter. They know that the reversal of the east-and-west policy is going to have its effect.

"Let there be no misunderstanding—and no living in a fool's paradise. The people of Nova Scotia are determined to get out of federated Canada; but they have no illusions in the matter. They know that the reversal of the east-and-west policy is going to have its effect."

"We repeat: this is not a 'movement' as such, originating in Nova Scotia. This is the result of a growing discontent—and a growing determination—that it is being determined here in the scale of wrongs, unredressed and national pledges unredeemed, if Nova Scotia ever cuts the painter of confederation—and there is every possibility of that. It will be because, giving everything to the taste of nation-building, this Province has received little but broken pledges and callous discrimination in return."

So marked has become the feeling over the asserted slighting of the Atlantic ports that the various provincial legislatures have voted funds last year to send a representative through the west, exhorting shippers to lend an ear to the Far East cry for commerce. The net result of this action was a greater volume of Canadian grain through United States ports than ever. The shippers' defense is that the rate through the United States is lower.

While protesting with all their might against what they term unfair preference of trade routes the inhabitants of this section of the Dominion are still loyal to the British and Canadian Empire, and intend to stay there unless they are driven to other means of protecting themselves.

Other Craft Meet Trouble on American Coasts

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—The motorship Mazatlan sent a wireless message to Swaine and Hoyt, her owners, here today, saying that she was drifting helpless 860 miles east of Guam on account of engine trouble. She has nineteen persons on board, two of them women.

N. H. Hickman, to whom the vessel is under charter, has sent a cable message to Honolulu asking that a relief vessel be sent from that place.

The passengers on board are Mrs. Joseph Meany, wife of the skipper, and Mrs. Clarence Hyde, wife of the supercargo.

The Mazatlan was forced by engine trouble to put into Honolulu with a无线 message from San Francisco to April 10 months ago. Mariners say that she is endangered because of her presence in a winter typhoon area.

Host of Wales Sued by Dancer Over Car Crash

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, March 9.—Walcott Blair, Chicago society man, who was host here to the Prince of Wales, was made defendant today in a suit for $100,000 damages, brought by Miss Geraldine Markham, the New York dancer.

The suit charged that because of his carelessness, Blair caused an accident that marred the beauty of Miss Markham to such an extent that it virtually has destroyed her means of livelihood.

The bill charged that members of the Blair family promised her they would have a plastic surgeon rebuild her badly damaged features but have not done so, nor will they answer her letters.

In the promise, the bill states, Miss Markham signed a paper, the nature of which she does not know, but assumes it was a receipt for $1500 which is an accident insurance company paid him.

Count Blair last January married Mrs. Yvonne Sturgis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Yvonne of New York, and the couple are now in Europe.

TRASHY COWBOY TALES DISLIKED

Bay City Book Reviewer Tells Readers' Preferences

Finds Fiction and Travel Most Popular Types

Also Broadcasts Talks on Literary Topics

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—If the trashy cowboy novel has any admirers in the mountain or prairie States, there is nothing to indicate it in the correspondence of Joseph Henry Jackson, literary editor of one of the west coast magazines.

Contrary to what is sometimes believed, "westerns" are popular in the West, just as they are in the East, he finds, but it is the better written western story that makes friends.

Jackson received about 200 letters yearly concerning books and from them he forms his conclusions as to the literary preferences of western readers. There is a noteworthy absence of appeal for the more sensational "wild and woolly" western life.

"Of course," he concedes, "it is only the reader of good books who is sufficiently interested to go to the trouble of writing a critic or an author."

Fiction leads in popularity with readers on the sunset side of the continent—from Alaska to Mexico. The mystery story holds its place, and the romance, as does the historical novel, particularly that dealing with western history.

Jackson thinks the popularity of books in this section can be traced to classification under as follows: fiction, travel, history, popular science, history, poetry and humor. Humor doubtless would be closer to the top except that they are comparatively few manuscripts published.

In the last year, besides those that he read for publication criticism, Jackson read and reviewed 534 books by radio. He was among the first book-reviewers to go on the air. Now there are seventy-two or more broadcast book critics maintained.

The life of the average book reviewer is one book after another. He does not hope to please all the hundreds of books he reads yearly. Jackson says the professional reader can familiarize himself with the contents of a vast number of books from fifteen to eighteen a week, the year around.

"An hour is enough to devote to the lighter type of novel," he declares. "To accomplish this, entire paragraphs, almost a page at a time, must be consumed in a single glance. This requires training and long practice but for the professional, is no superficial in result as one might think."

Jackson's opinion of the system of teaching pupils to read by "word recognition, a method which discards the alphabet completely, will upon development to enable the coming generation to deal with the printed page with greater rapidity than the professional reader does now."

The radio reviewer, if he would be successful, must figuratively "take the listener by the elbow, steer him out of the chair to one side of the room, so he could half a friend on the street to discuss the merits of a film," Jackson believes. He warns the reviewer of "too much of a touch-and-go game." "The best part of people who listen to radio book reviews are the kind who freeze up quickly and resent attempted familiarity if it is even the tiniest bit off tone."

Alaskan Guide Will Ascend Mt. McKinley

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
ANCHORAGE (Alaska), March 9.—Alex Stuck, Alaskan guide and mountain climber, believes it possible that Mt. McKinley peak may be in active volcanic eruption. To find out he plans to ascend it, following the route taken by the late Archdeacon Hudson Stuck, who in 1913 led the first climbers approaching from the northeast.

Stuck described the crest of the mountain as containing a crater-like snow basin about twenty-five by fifty feet in dimension. He made his trip in company with Harry E. Keeler, Robert G. Tatum, a missionary; a third veteran of the Klondike, and three Indian boys. On the summit the instrument reading disclosed the peak to be 25,300 feet above sea level.

The Stuck expedition made its start March 17, nearly three months being required for the ascent. Proceeding by dog team from Nenana, a month later camp was established 4000 feet up Muldrow Glacier. This was two miles from the top. The remainder of the trip was more difficult, the greatest obstacle being a steep ridge between the lower and upper glacial floors.

The spectacular eruptions of steam vents found in the area in recent years, bringing into being the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes and other natural phenomena, lend interest to the undertaking.

MESA CHURCH FITS UP DANCING PAVILION

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
MESA (Ariz.), March 9.—The Church of Latter Day Saints has few problems with reference to the modern dancing craze, for the church recognizes dancing as a proper form of recreation, although one that must be done modestly.

The largest hall in this city has been purchased by the Maricopa Stake of the Mormon Church, which has spent $30,000 in fitting a dancing pavilion and amusement pavilion to be dedicated next month. It has been named "The Mezzos," a combination of Mesa and Arizona.

GAMEMESTERS OBTAIN TIPS FROM STARS

Astronomical Charts Found by Vancouver Police in Raids on Betting Places

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

VANCOUVER (B.C.) March 9.—Many years ago gamblers consulted the stars before making wagers, and the practice has been revived and is much in vogue in Vancouver at present, according to the police.

Inspector George McLaughlin and his aides, in recent raids on poolrooms where betting on horse races was being carried on, found strange charts lying about the premises and in possession of the patrons.

The charts with cabalistic signs were unlike any ever seen before in betting places, and the police commenced an investigation. Eventually the mystery was solved by the possessor of a chart, who explained that it was a forecast by the stars of the result of the next race.

This man declared that some weeks ago an amateur astrologer consulted the stars in connection with the races. Wagers placed in accordance with the celestial tips astounded the "talent" who paid for virtually all the horses won.

The story of how this fortunate gamemaster obtained his "tips" got around, and soon the amateur astrologer was swamped with orders to supply star tips. Other amateur astrologers and卦星卦师 are now in great demand and the star-gazing business is enjoying an unprecedented boom.

British Envoy Makes Request for Explanation

Canadian Schooner Said to Have Been Fired On

Vessel Declared More Than Hour's Sailing Out

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
WASHINGTON, March 9.—Charges that the Canadian schooner Eastwood was shelled twenty-one miles off the New Jersey coast have been brought to the attention of the State Department by Sir Ernest Howard, the British Ambassador.

The master of the schooner, the home port of which is Lunenburg, N. S., and members of the crew have stated that the charges were upon the United States Coast Guard cutter Seneca early in February, when more than one hour's sailing distance from the American coast. This has been denied by officers of the Seneca.

At the request of the Canadian Department of External Affairs, which has received a protest from the owner of the Eastwood with affidavits from the crew and photographs of the ship, the Canadian Ambassador submitted a written request for information to the State Department, and this has been referred to the Treasury Department, which has jurisdiction over the Coast Guard.

The Ambassador's communication asked information as to whether the Seneca or any other revenue cutter or American government vessel had shelled the schooner. No communication was made thus far by the Treasury.

The treaty directed against running, which was negotiated with Great Britain in 1924, limits the amount of time allowed of smuggling liquor to one hour's sailing distance from the coast.

LIMIT PUT ON SAFETY FIRST

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

DENVER, March 9.—The State Supreme Court today was asked to decide whether the State can compel a man against his own wishes properly to safeguard his own life. The question came up in an appeal from a Colorado Springs District Court where James Dairymple, State coal mining inspector, lost his fight to compel Fred Sevilk to install "proper safety measures" in a small coal mine which Sevilk owns and operates himself. District Judge Cornforth ruled that in this instance the State law requiring coal mines to have certified foremen and ventilation fans is "unreasonable" and unconstitutional, and issued an order preventing Dairymple from further interference in Sevilk's mine.

Details of Fight Preceding Death of Siki Related

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

NEW YORK, March 9.—Revelations were made today as to the mysterious slaying of Battling Siki in Hell's Kitchen last December. The last few minutes of his life were described by men he had called "white trash."

The story of what happened in the early hours when the Senegalese boxer's body was riddled with bullets was told by an 18-year-old youth, Martin Maroney, who was arrested on a charge of homicide. Police believe, however, that the youth had died before Siki was killed.

Maroney has given the names of several men who were in the same lunch room, where Siki is believed to have been shot. Maroney said, entered the lunch room in a "jacketed rage" and fought with "white trash" and hurled a chair at them.

The mao leaped at the boxer and during the fight, that followed Maroney said, a few blocks away he heard shots.

GROCERIES SOLD BY CELEBRITIES

Debutantes Also Serve as Chain-Store Clerks

Net Profits for Day Go to Charity Institution

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

NEW YORK, March 9.—Debutantes and their mammas and their sisters and their aunts, worked as grocery clerks yesterday in five of a chain of grocery stores.

They are all located in the social center neighborhood.

All day long the amateur sales-women, as members of the cooperative committee of the Neurological Institute, sold anything from cavities to cheese, and the institution got 20 per cent of the gross receipts.

In case anybody wanted to know the proper way to eat the groove well-known knife and fork authority, was on duty at one of the stores.

Several celebrities also were on hand at other shops to autograph cans of peas or what's your provision.

Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. Jane Cowell and her fountain pen was found at a Sixty-six street and Lexington avenue store. Miss Anita Loos, authority on what gentlemen prefer, was at Fifteenth avenue, inquiring what the ladies like in the way of provisions.

Alma Gluck had intended to sell for she said she had a "surprised desire to sell cheese," but the other girls in the chain had no regret, as she had an engagement in Havana, or Palm Beach, or somewhere.

Limousines had barely deposited the "debutantes" in the city at 8:30 o'clock in the morning when other limousines began depositing shopkeepers at the doors. Some of them brought their dogs along to see what grocery stores look like a thing the city dogs do not know so well as those out in the outlying areas.

STEVE'S HORSE BEATS AUTO

Jockey Forgets He Is Making Film Play and Wins Race

INT CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS

NICE, March 9.—Steve Donoghue is too good a jockey for the films. Steve came to Nice to take one of the chief parts in a new film called "Riding for the King." His first work was to ride a horse in a race with an automobile in which the car was supposed to win.

But Steve got excited and won the race. A whole afternoon's work and many feet of film were wasted.

One of the early buyers, she sent in a $50 telephone order and her chauffeur carried it away. There were a whole case of canned peas and another case of cleansing powder in the box he took out to ride a horse in a race with an automobile in which the car was supposed to win.

"Swing Around Circle" Made in Interests of Fair Sex

Miss Whittemore of California Active in Drive

Tour of Many States Accomplished by Automobile

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
WASHINGTON, March 9.—Miss Margaret Whittemore, formerly of Detroit and now a resident of Santa Barbara, Cal., vice-president, and Miss Mabel Vernon of Wilmington, Del., executive secretary, of the National Woman's Party, are making a swing around the circle in the interest of the "Women for Congress" campaign of the Woman's party.

They are now traveling westward in their car and plan to cover more than two States before the middle of May, where meetings will be addressed by the two envoys in behalf of the new campaign to put more women in office appointive and elective, and to secure a state constitution.

Both are highly qualified women of ability and experience and of known loyalty to the interests of women. Thus the Woman's party believes, is the logical next step in the equal rights movement. This automobile tour with Miss Whittemore at the wheel, will be the longest of several tours by which the Woman's party plans to cover the entire country before the convention in Baltimore the middle of May at which will be announced the names of the women who will be supported by the party in the next Congressional election campaign.

Miss Vernon will accompany Miss Whittemore through Indiana, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona to San Francisco, returning through Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Kentucky, West Virginia and Maryland.

Miss Whittemore has done some of the most picturesque campaigning for the suffrage cause, than for equal rights for women since the days of Susan B. Anthony. During the campaign for the Federal amendment she gave up the comforts of her home in Detroit to assist the Woman's party in the Northwest, and by stage, by motor, and on horseback she traveled through the country talking to men and women, arguing with cowboys at rail-heads, driving her automobile the length of the coast persuading western women voters to use their votes for the enfranchisement of other women. Last year she completed on a 24,000-mile auto tour in the interest of the proposed equal rights amendment sponsored by the Woman's party and introduced in the Senate by Senator Curtis and the House by Representative Dan Anthony of Kansas. Miss Whittemore, who is a granddaughter of the first woman suffrage worker in Michigan, is one of the most brilliant and resourceful members of the Woman's party.

They are due in Los Angeles April 11, next.

Mexican Immigration Men Promise to Pass Persons to Events at Juarez

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

JUAREZ (Mex.) March 9.—After fifteen years the running horses will gallop around the Juarez track after April 14, next. This was announced here by L. E. Hirschbrandt, resident manager of the Juarez track, who has been in El Paso and Juarez all winter trying to arrange for the reopening. The racing plant had been leased from the syndicate headed by Col. Matt Winn and the promoters had arrangements of racing tracks from New Orleans and Florida.

But the problem of having the passport restrictions removed for the thirty-day race meet was the cause of the delay in announcing the resumption of racing here.

Through the Mexican immigration service permission was obtained to pass all persons attending the races after the 15th inst.

With the resumption of racing in the Juarez plant to begin, changes will be added to the history of this Mexican track. Built back in 1909 by Col. Winn and his Kentucky associates when running horse racing was being outlawed in the United States, the track has had a checkered career. After a series of successful meetings the Mexican revolution started and many of the horsemen withdrew their stables for fear the thoroughbreds might become saddle mounts for some of the rebels.

While the racing was discontinued

it was a financial failure and was finally abandoned and the track closed.

Since that time the only use of the Juarez racing plant has been for holding fairs on Mexican holidays and as a rendezvous for Mexican revolutionary troops preparing to attack Juarez. Pancho Villa made the grand stand his headquarters.

SMUGGLING OF ALIENS AT TAMPA DECREASES

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

TAMPA (Fla.) March 9.—Smuggling of aliens through the port of Tampa and other localities along the west coast of Florida is steadily decreasing, said Inspector William A. Whalen. From the beginning of this year, to February 7, last, not one alien was captured here and no report was made as to the landing of any. Smuggling here during 1925 showed a decrease from 1924, Mr. Whalen declared.

Chief Kirkley says Hersan has made admissions warranting his detention and that a thorough investigation of his activities is being made. Hersan is said to have told some Reno acquaintances he came here with the object of getting away from the other. He is asserted to have stated he was heir to millions and became stranded here while traveling east to collect his fortune.

Film . . . what it is
The enemy of teeth and gums

You will notice a film on your child's teeth. That's a frequent danger sign—an invitation for tooth and gum troubles. The same stubborn film that you can feel by running your tongue across your own teeth.

Mere brushing won't do. You must combat it. Ordinary dentifrices won't fight it successfully.

Film is the greatest enemy of tooth health. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs breed in it and imperil both teeth and gums. The acid that leads to early decay forms. Old-type methods failed to combat it. So men of science engaged themselves in discovering an effective combatant—one new and different.

It removes that film
And firms the gums

Now in Pepsodent, two new combatants are embodied—combatants approved by highest dental authority. It curdles the film, gently removes it; then firms the gums. It keeps the teeth whiter, cleaner, more sparkling. It is the modern scientific method for better tooth protection. Insist upon it. Get a tube today. Mail the coupon.

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS
TIEN-TEIN, March 9.—Taku was completely closed to shipping this morning on account of the factional Chinese fighting, and the Kuomintung, (national People's army) has mined the bar in the river channel, extinguished all lights and forbidden pilots to function. Numerous steamers are tied up, waiting to come or go. The foreign authorities are conferring and probably will negotiate with the Kuomintung to secure a truce, reaching an agreement whereby bona fide merchandise will be escorted across Taku bar. One foreign gunboat already has moved toward Taku from Tiensin and others are expected to follow.

PROGRESS MADE IN SURTAKE RATE DRAFT
BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
WASHINGTON, March 9.—The subcommittees created by the Chinese customs conference in Peking to draw up a resolution covering surtax rates in line with Article 10 of the Washington treaty, were yesterday by Minister MacMurtry in an official communiqué made public by the State Department. MacMurtry said that the committee held its third meeting yesterday and would resume surtax discussions Friday.

Article III provided that surtax should be levied at a uniform rate of 2½ per cent ad valorem, except in cases of articles of luxury which in the opinion of the customs conference could bear a greater increase without unduly impeding trade. The treaty provides, however, that the total surtax on luxuries shall not exceed 8 per cent ad valorem.

One Million for a Garden
Thomas Fortune Ryan has paid $1,000,000 for an old New York mansion adjoining his home, which he will tear down to make room for a private flower garden. The high-priced gardening all right, but Ryan probably has spent a good many millions for other things that have brought him less enjoyment and benefit.—(Capper's Weekly).

ELsie DE WOLFE TO MARRYFormer New York Actress Will Wed Englishman Despite Fact She is 61 Years of Age*(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, March 9.—Romance has come at 61 years of age into the life of one of New York's most notable women, Miss Elsie De Wolfe, and society is much surprised. She is to be married in Paris tomorrow to Sir Charles Mendel, head of the press section of the British embassy.

Formerly an actress and producer, she, in recent years, has been successful as an interior decorator. She is an intimate friend of Miss Anne Morgan, sister of J. P. Morgan.

Paris dispatches say the engagement was announced to a small group of friends at a tea given in Paris by Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt.

Miss De Wolfe was born in New York, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Stephen De Wolfe. She was educated in New York, England and France, and made her stage debut in 1890.

Her first success was in Gurdie's "Thermidor." She became a member of the old Empire Stock Company, and later organized one of her own. She was both manager and actor, producing a number of Clyde Fitch's plays.

While a producer, she became interested in interior decorating and left the stage in 1903 to follow that profession. Among the buildings she decorated in this country are the Colony Club in New York, the Ogden Armour home at Lake Forrest, Ill., and the William Crocker home at Sacramento, Cal.

With Miss Anne Morgan and Miss Elizabeth Marbury, she went to France in 1916 to work in hospitals. Twenty months later she returned with the Cross of the Legion of Honor and the Croix de Guerre bronze star. In 1925 her collection of antiques was sold for $101,991.

Miss De Wolfe maintains a New York residence with Miss Marbury in fashionable Sutton Place, near the East River. Most of her time, however, is spent in the Villa Iriana, near Versailles.

Sir Charles Mendel was an intelligence officer in the British Army during the World War, and was knighted in 1924.

The principal prize is given to expert riflemen and sharpshooters. The new insignia will merely indicate the particular weapon with which the wearer has acquired skill, and car and other British Dominions will rises no additional compensation.

OIL SHALE CLAIMS UP IN INQUIRYSecretary Work Launches Investigation at Request of Navy Department*(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

STOCKTON, March 9.—Secretary Work has begun an inquiry into the validity of oil-shale claims in the West, many of which have been represented to the Interior Department as illegal.

The investigation centers in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming, and involves claims believed to represent potential oil resources valued at millions of dollars. Nearly all are held by individuals in Denver, Salt Lake City, Chicago and New York.

Shows the Secretary find any of these claims irregular, he will undertake to cancel them under a new policy by which he personally passes on the validity of such holdings.

The inquiry was begun at the request of the Navy Department, which is seeking to prevent depletion of its reserves and is being conducted in its present stages by five inspectors of the General Land Office.

Approximately 2000 claims within the naval oil-shale reserves in Colorado and Utah are under examination. In addition, the investigators are looking over numerous mining applications for oil-shale claims outside the naval reserves in these two States and Wyoming.

SENATE PASSES KENDRICK BILL

Measure Compromise on Reclamation Plan

Similar Provisions Must be Put Through House

Work Sees it as Test of Land Financing Method

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
WASHINGTON, March 9.—Without debate or a record vote, the Senate today passed the Kendrick bill, embodying the compromise between Senators from western States and Senator Frank J. Bryan of Wyoming, which had no opportunity to explain it. The Wyoming Senator had expected some opposition. This action of the Senate is not final, however, as the measure must pass in the Interior Department appropriation bill, which, as passed by the House, provides financial aid to settlers on the Spanish Springs (Nev.), Sun River (Mont.), Owyhee, Vale and Baker (Or.) projects.

WILL TEST METHOD
The three-year experiment in government financing of settlers on reclamation projects, provided in the Kendrick bill, will, in the belief of Secretary Work, determine whether the method of developing lands under government irrigation is feasible and practical.

The measure would appropriate $800,000 to be used in making loans to settlers on projects to be selected by the Interior Secretary. Entry on lands in these projects would be restricted to persons with a year's farming experience and $1,000 in cash. The amount was sent to the House for consideration.

Reclamation Bureau officials, Secretary Work said, "are gratified at the progress being made in the development of the measure of legislation which promises a satisfactory solution of reclamation problems, both from the viewpoint of Congress and the Department of the Interior." Legislation similar to the reclamation settlers was first introduced in the Sixty-Eighth Congress, and a law was enacted in 1924 obliging States to aid those selected settlers on new projects who possessed $500 in cash and farm equipment. With the passage of this act, the Reclamation Bureau was, of course, obliged to observe this law and proceed under it. The State of Oregon, which operated under the old Reclamation Bureau in the administration of the new act, but Oregon and Nevada failed to extend their cooperation when the Department of the Interior assumed control of the new law in those States, especially those provisions relating to State aid for the new settlers.

LOUISVILLE, March 9.—Dr. James Montgomery, president of Centre College, Danville, Ky., resigned today.

Failure of the Centre Colonels to continue an outstanding football team was said to be among the reasons for the student dissatisfaction with Dr. James Montgomery. These reports were denied.

KRESGES SEEK DIVINE AID

Magnate Offers Wife New Home If She'll Drop Suit; Both Visit Preacher as Lawyers Wait

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, March 9.—"I'll take you back, darling, and build you a new love nest, provided you drop your $2,500,000 law suit against me."

That was Sebastian S. Kresge's candide as well as candid ultimatum today to Mrs. Doris Mercer Kresge, his former Pittsburgh divorcee bride of two years, who is more than twenty years his junior.

The couple's lawyers are maintaining a "hands off" policy and are letting the estranged pair conduct their own peace negotiations.

However, when the elderly chain-store magnate and his second wife left, Justice Wagner in chambers Monday night after a long conference with a view to reconciliation, they felt the need of spiritual guidance and consulted Rev. Rainey Stockman of the Madison Avenue Methodist, the Episcopal Church. It was learned today.

When informed that Dr. Stockman had just then preaching from the pulpit—"the world is changing," the magnate and his wife went to a picture theater and returned to the church in an amiable mood. They were some time with Dr. Stockman.

PREACHERS WILL TRY
Dr. Stockman and another Methodist preacher, whose name has not been revealed, will try to smooth out the differences that are keeping the Kresges apart.

It also was learned today that the couple have agreed to settle their differences with a stipulation that because of its favorable geographical conditions, the United States is not menaced by any potential enemy.

On the other hand, his wife, wife of the Kresges, will try to live up to his request to give her stock valued at $2,500,000, according to their lawyers.

The couple have until next Monday to decide on domestic peace further. On Sunday, Justice Wagner will resume trial of the case unless a stipulation discontinuing the suit is made in in court.

LAWYERS NOT HOPEFUL

Neither Max D. Steuer, representing Kresge, nor Nathan Burkhardt, counsel for the suing wife, was particularly hopeful tonight of a settlement of the couple's differences.

If the case goes on, Kresge's intimate prenuptial relations with his present wife, the daughter of Capt. George E. Mercer of Pittsburgh, who died several weeks ago, and Mrs. Harden, magazine publisher in 1919, will be shown.

Kresge is chairman of the finance committee of the National Anti-Saloon League and a latecomer to the organization. He is regarded as a pillar of the Methodist church and has been active in reform work.

COUZENS'S TAX LEVY DEFENDED

Government Files Reply to Senator's Assertions

Deficiency of $9,455,303.10 Charged in Assessment

Treasury Justifies Action in Overturning Ruling

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Re-opening of the tax case of Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, and the assessment against him of a deficiency tax amounting to $45,303.10, in connection with his sale of stock in the Ford Motor Company in 1919, are defended in an answer filed with the board of tax appeals today by A. W. Gregg, solicitor of internal revenue.

The defense rests on the assertions made by Senator Couzens in his appeal from the decision of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Mr. Gregg, in his answer sets forth legal points on which the Treasury justifies its action in reopening the case and overturning a ruling by former Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Daniel C. Roper, who determined in advance of the trial of the case that its value as of March 1, 1919, should be considered to be $348,324 per share. Senator Couzens sold 2180 shares to Edsel Ford for $13,848.27 per share, on the basis of the Roper valuation, realizing a profit of $3,855.08 per share over the 1919 valuation, or a total taxable profit of $5,622,098.70. The Treasury now contends that the value should have been fixed at $3547.84, instead of $348,324 per share.

Contentions advanced by Mr. Gregg include the following: That the tax is based on the authority and duty of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, neither nor could be abridged or foreclosed by any act or determination of a predecessor in office or by the action of any other officer.

That the exercise of such authority and duty has not nor could it be impaired, defeated or taken away by any laches or asserted laches on the part of any official or employee of the United States.

That neither the racing upon the stock of the Ford Motor Company the value of $348,324 per share nor any assessment or other act or acts done or predicated thereon could or did constitute a violation of the law.

That the tax is imposed on the United States and the taxpayer, nor did any officer or employee of the government have any authority to make an agreement which would bind the government upon the government.

CONTENDERS WILL TRY

The hearing will be held at the Internal Revenue Bureau in Washington, D. C., on April 10.

CIVILIAN AIR WORK HELD IMPORTANT

Morron Testifies Before House Committee on New Legislation Needed

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The House Military Committee today resumed consideration of aviation legislation with Dwight W. Morrow of New York, who headed the President's air board as a witness. Mr. Morrow urged the importance of commercial aviation as a factor in national defense.

An all-embracing bill, covering the subject, has been promised by the committee.

Mr. Morrow stressed the board's recommendations that so far as practicable actual flying operations should be controlled by flying men. While the board did not consider any radical change in the nation's defense system, he said, he believed that if it looked upon coordination on the aircraft procurement activities of the Army and Navy as desirable,

Rep. John W. McCormack expressed the opinion that because of its favorable geographical conditions, the United States is not menaced by any potential enemy.

The question arose when Senator Wadsworth, Republican, New York, explained that an amendment to the bill providing that $45,000 on the committee's funds might be expended on a hospital at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, had been made necessary because the budget had not allowed the item.

This led Senator Smith to determine that the proposed legislation was a "monstrous perversion of what we are supposed to do."

Market is Dull Trading Affair in Absence of Fresh Spur

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, March 9.—With fresh incentive lacking, the market turned into a dull trading affair, but the under tone was strong and movements in the main toward higher levels. News of the day was generally constructive, while several companies taking favorable dividend action. The stocks favored by investors were among the day's strong spots, but the news had little effect elsewhere. Investors, however, had a more favorable appearance since the break, continued and it was apparent that the floating supply of food stocks was being cut down. The money market displayed further ease, with rates being fixed at 1½ per cent, followed by a drop to 4 per cent for fresh loans. This served to stimulate a resumption of constructive operations on a moderate scale, and was covering of short commitments in the lead. The action of the market as a whole was in line with expectations of those who are of the belief that a period of narrow swings will precede the next extended movement.

Leaders Move Forward

Operations for higher prices were more aggressive in some of the leading materials and rails. A number of the more active descriptions were bid up rather sharply, with recent sellers for short account contributing liberally in the way of buying power. American Can had a vigorous rebound, getting close to the high levels made on last week's recovery. United Drug responded quickly to the increase announced in the dividend rate. American Smelters and another strong feature in the pool in the Commercial Solvents issues appeared to have a strong hold on the situation in those stocks. Investment rails made better response to the gains than bonds recently published, with Delaware and Hudson and Atlantic Coast Lines the outstanding features. It was apparent in most directions that good investment buying, which has been in progress for some time, was just beginning, reducing the floating supply of the more seasoned stocks.

Van Sweringen Rails

Arrival of the Van Sweringen brothers had little influence on the stocks of the roads which had been scheduled to go into the new "Nickel Plate." The fact that the sponsors of the plan, which was turned down last week, remained in the office of the head of the Penn Marquette, naturally gave rise to the report that tomorrow's dividend meeting was the subject of discussion. Whatever the reason, the unseasoned investors remained in some quarters as indicative of a determination to revise the plan on lines acceptable to the commission.

BUSINESS PHILOSOPHY

BY WILLIAM FEATHER

SOME companies become so used to handling complaints that they don't know how to receive a compliment. A woman in my neighborhood had some trouble with her telephone. She complained and it was fixed so promptly and so well that she decided the company should be thanked. So she called up the telephone company.

"I want to report that our telephone service is better," said the young lady, "I'll give you the trouble department."

"Just a minute," said the young lady, "I'll give you the trouble department."

"I just wanted to say that our telephone service is better," she announced to the trouble department.

"What's the trouble, please?"

"There is no trouble. The trouble's been fixed. It's all right, now, thank you."

"What did you say?"

At that point the woman hung up, and laughed long and loud.

NEW FINANCING ANNOUNCED

Four public utility and industrial issues, aggregating $20,932,000, are being offered throughout the country, consisting of 12,253,000 Indiana and Michigan Electric Company first and refunding mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds, $650,000 first mortgage 4½ per cent gold bonds, $14,000,000 New York-New Jersey Interstate Bridge 4½ per cent gold bonds, and $1,000,000 6½ per cent bonds of the Hudson Navigation Company.

The gold bonds of the Indiana-Michigan Electric Company are being offered by the Harris Trust & Savings Bank, Bonbright & Co. and the Old Colony Corporation, at a rate of 4½ per cent, yielding more than 5½ per cent. The bonds are due March 1, 1935.

The company supplies electric light and power to the St. Joseph River Valley in Michigan and Southern Michigan. The bonds are secured by a direct first mortgage on the new Twin Branch power plant and transmission line and the mortgage on the balance of the plant property totals to one closed issue of $1,553,000 underlying bonds outstanding.

A. M. Lampert & Co., Inc., of New York, is offering the securities of The Upjohn Gas Company of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, 1½ per cent and accrued interest, the bonds being issued for the acquisition of The Upjohn Company, the producing company, and for other corporate purposes.

YOUR INCOME TAX

(This is No. 2 of a series containing the principal points of the Income Tax Law. The articles are supplied by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Washington.)

Losses, if incurred in a taxpayer's trade or business or profession, or in any transaction entered into for profit, are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise, are deductible from gross income in determining net income upon which the income tax is assessed. To be allowed, losses not incurred in trade, business or profession must conform closely to the wording of the statute. For example, a loss incurred in the sale of a taxpayer's home or automobile, which at the time of purchase was not bought with the intention of resale, is not deductible because it was not a transaction "entered into for profit." Losses sustained in the operation of a farm as a business venture are deductible if sustained in the operation of a farm operated merely for the pleasure of the taxpayer they are not deductible.

Directors scheduled to meet at mid-day for dividend action on the common shares. Although it had been reported early in the day that the stock would go on $2 dividends and bonds, the action of the board during the forenoon indicates that there was considerable uncertainty among holders. The stock was offered freely at slight concession, yielding well over 5 per cent. Most of the action took place from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Jersey, before the actual announcement was forthcoming. News of the action brought a quick rebound on which the early reaction was fully justified, but holding on the good news was sufficient to offset the fresh demand, plenty of stock being met at times the high levels were approached. The other motors, Ford and Ford Motor, with Hudson and General Motors showing a fairly firm tone.

Strength in Republic Steel

Republic Iron and Steel was one of the leaders of the market of the day, responding to buying induced by the belief that the stock would very shortly go on a dividend basis. Like most of the independent steel companies, Republic's earnings have been highly irregular from year to year. It has been a case of "feast or famine" since the end of the war boom, but those who keep close touch on the steel business realize that the period of a number of years of stability is becoming evident. Over the ten-year period ended December 31, last, not for the common was equivalent to an average of over 5½ per cent, the high point of course, included the big war years. Last year was a good one, however, with net for the common running to $8.88 a share in contrast with 8½ cents a share in the previous year. Financial position was strong, with current assets equivalent to more than five times current liabilities. Dividends were paid on the junior issue from 1917 to May, 1925, but nothing has been disbursed since that time.

Steel Spring at New High

Railway Steel Spring was in the speculative spotlight among the leaders of the market, moving up sharply to a new high ground of the year on reports that American Locomotive or American Foundry were seeking to acquire the properties of a number of the smaller local mills for the stock. Large blocks of the stock changed hands on the way up, with one big house in particular reported filling a good proportion of the bids. Brokers understood the firm had pushed upward to have sold upward of 12,500 shares as the stock pushed ahead.

ANNOUNCE PORTS OF CALL IN NEW SERVICE

Port of call for the new Pacific-Caribbean Line has been announced by Sam Y. Knight, district manager of the McCormick Steamship Company. In April a leading vessel will call at Tarifa, Sagua and Cien Fuegos, Cuba; Trinidad; Curacao; Maracaibo; Venezuela; Port of Spain; and much other ports as inducements offer.

This new service of the Munson-McCormick Line is the first regular line to be established from the Pacific Coast of the United States to the southern territory.

A recent survey of four cities in Florida made by the National Association of Service Aid Societies showed that stenographers, waitresses and well-trained domestics helping had the best chance of getting work.

DISCUSSED

Beverly Hills Women
Consider Proposal at Club Meeting

Discussion of plans for a 200-acre park which is being promoted by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of La Balloona Valley featured the meeting of the association at the Women's Club of Beverly Hills last night.

One of the most interesting numbers of the program for the evening was the address by Gen. J. A. Rountree, director-general of the United States Good Roads Association. Gen. Rountree discussed the work that has been done by his association, plans for the future, and the proposed national convention which is to be held at Santa Monica June 7 to 12 inclusive.

The eyes of the nation, he said, are on Southern California, particularly on Santa Monica, the convention city.

Gen. Rountree was elected an honorary member of the Associated Chamber of Commerce of La Balloona Valley.

Barrymore to Join Next With United Artists

John Barrymore will join United Artists at the conclusion of his present contract with Warner Brothers, it was announced yesterday in New York, according to dispatches. He will have his own studio, make his own pictures, and make his own pictures, about two years.

Barrymore does not intend to retire from the stage, it was said, believing that his screen work will not interfere with legitimate acting. He will be on the same basis as the other members of the United Artists group.

START SOMETHING!

Police Commission Now Guarded by Largest Man on Force

Anyone who would like to start something at the next meeting of the Police Commission, just consider.

Patrolman George Welch, the largest copper in the police department, was selected yesterday as sergeant-at-arms to keep order at the commission's meetings in the future.

Commissioner of Police, John Birnbaum, confessed, was influenced by a near riot that occurred recently when the Police Commission refused to grant a dance-hall license to Capt. F. Horn.

New Lamp Casts No Shadow

A new lamp has an arrangement of defectors and cylindrical prismatic lenses so disposed that no shadow is thrown. It is especially valuable for surgery, as it is able to perform operations by its light without interference from shadows.

FREIGHTER LINE GROWS RAPIDLY

Building for Run

Six Motorships Now in Use to be Supplanted

The Kawasaki-Roosevelt globe-circling freight service has developed so rapidly since its inception a year and a half ago that the six new motorships now on the run are to be added by six large fast freighters now building in English yards according to Capt. William Griffiths, master of the Silverline, which departed here yesterday.

The enlarged concern, capitalized at $1,000,000, will be known as the Silverline Line, Ltd., and will send the first of its new ships here the last of this year, to be followed almost monthly by sister ships as completed at J. L. Thompson's and Sons' Laing's yards in Sunderland.

Comparable to the present six, all of which are new, but with a speed of ten knots and deadweight of 3000 tons, the new six will have a displacement of 10,000 tons and a speed of sixteen knots. The latter will assure one of the fastest freight services in the world, and cut months from the five months and twenty-four days required by the Silverline to visit twenty-four ports and cover 27,000 miles in her globe-circling journey.

Los Angeles is proving one of the service's most productive sources of cargo. Capt. Griffiths said, "We have a few more to go before we declare little or no cargo space available for general and sardine paper for Canadian Government Merchant Marine.

MINNIE FLYNN

by FRANCES MARION

THE CAST
MINNIE FLYNN, to thousands of men, a famous star, is a red-headed, petite ex-vaudevillian staved to fame through the country.

"She don't mean—they can't renig."

Watson has nothing on paper. These men, although some of them are very rich, aren't going to pour water into a suit case. We've got to have something else to do.

MINNIE FLYNN, father, a newspaperman, who loves only his family and his work and knows neither.

Mrs. FLYNN, Minnie's mother, the result of a poverty-stricken marriage.

PETE FLYNN, Minnie's oldest brother, a bulldog, good-looking from head to foot and now her self-appointed business manager.

NETTIE FLYNN, Minnie's only sister, another walking parrot.

BEAUREGARD, a producer, to whom ALICE ADAMS, an extra girl who left off of movie casts, is attached.

GILBERT CARLTON, Minnie's husband, a man of few words, but a good one.

WATSON, a noted director, who has thought up some great scenes. Unusually good.

HORACE G. WATSON, self-appointed representative of New York capital, supposedly.

ROBINSON, a man who gave his name to a picture in the movies, the man who was killed.

ALICE ADAMS, an extra girl who left off of movie casts, is attached.

MINNIE FLYNN, a woman who has been married to a man she doesn't know.

MILES OF TRESTLES

"No, that is not the Los Angeles spirit! We shall keep on fighting, and we shall win and show that the railroads must obey the law and the lawful orders of the people, railroad and interstate commissioners, just as all citizens must obey the law."

From the address of City Attorney Stephens yesterday before the board of governors of the Los Angeles Realty Board.

"Keep the 'L' out of Los Angeles!" was the appeal made by City Attorney Stephens yesterday noon to the board of governors of the Los Angeles Realty Board at the Clark Hotel as the opening gun in the war against the railroads' plan to build four and a half miles of elevated railroads in the downtown area as a substitute for the union station ordered by the Railroad Commission.

Commission. These attorneys argue that a really simple solution of the whole problem is to make the railroads everything they want and then the whole trouble will be ended.

Now that is not the Los Angeles spirit. It is not the American spirit. If the colonists had felt that way in '76 we would have a Lord Mayor of Los Angeles. An address on the cosmic rays discovered by Dr. Robert A. Millikan, head of the institute, was a feature of the occasion. Russell H. Ballard heads the new organization.

The hearings now in progress before the Railroad Commission and the April 10 special election, the railroads are again asked to submit the same old "Plan plus which has been definitely rejected by the Interstate Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission," said City Attorney Stephens.

KEEP ON FIGHTING

"No, that is not the Los Angeles spirit! We shall keep on fighting, and we shall win and show that the railroads must obey the law and the lawful orders of the people, railroad and interstate commissioners, just as all citizens must obey the law."

In reviewing the hearings last week before the Railroad Commission on the terminal problem, City Attorney Stephens said:

"The sensation of the hearings in Los Angeles before the Railroad Commission on the grade-crossing elimination and terminal problem was the testimony of G. M. Keetch, transportation engineer, and even the railroads' attorneys admitted that his testimony was characterized by abounding fact and interesting detail. Mott testified that previous to his investigation on the problem for the commission, he was inclined to favor the carriers' plan. In his testimony, however, he said: 'Why all the fuss? The problem is to get down over a lower trestle than the Pacific Coast and have electric trains running on it. That's all there is to it.'

At the first meeting Mr. Huntington threw open his house, on whose walls hang what is probably the finest collection of engineering drawings now existing anywhere, to the associates and their wives. The guests first assembled in the large drawing room, which had ample seating capacity for the 100 or more engineers and their wives who had come from all parts of the country to attend the meeting.

At the second meeting Mr. Huntington again opened his house, on whose walls hang what is probably the finest collection of engineering drawings now existing anywhere, to the associates and their wives. The guests first assembled in the large drawing room, which had ample seating capacity for the 100 or more engineers and their wives who had come from all parts of the country to attend the meeting.

Both the Rockefeller Foundation and the Carnegie Institution have shown their confidence in this undertaking by contributing largely to its initiation and support.

It was to meet the expanding needs and to participate in the enlargement of the activities of the institute that the present association has been formed. It was planned to make it consist of exactly 100 residents of Southern California who are to be brought together on four or five occasions each winter for the meeting of distinguished guests and foreign associates of the institute, the transaction of necessary business and educational enterprises in the world today. Both the Rockefeller Foundation and the Carnegie Institution have shown their confidence in this undertaking by contributing largely to its initiation and support.

The "upper line" of the proposed Fremont-avenue opening and widening between Sixth and Eighth streets was authorized yesterday by the Council when it voted unanimously to adopt the report of the Street-Opening and Widening Committee establishing the lines.

The cost of the whole project was estimated yesterday by Assistant City Attorney Whitehead at $6,000,000 and $7,000,000, while the cost of the section acted

NEW GRAND JURY TO SIFT ESCAPES AT COUNTY JAIL

Coroner's Verdict Puts Onus of Death on Faulty Construction and Bad Management

Developments followed in rapid succession yesterday in the investigation of the construction and management of the jail quarters in the new Hall of Justice Building which was precipitated by the escape of seven prisoners and the subsequent death of a 15-year-old youth who plunged nine stories to his death in an attempt to make a getaway on a rope made of blankets.

Court Swears in Inquisitors

Organization of the 1926 county grand jury was completed yesterday and its first business was presented by Chief Deputy District Attorney Flitt. This consisted of recommendations by Sheriff Traeger and the Board of Supervisors to the investigation of conditions at the County Jail, from the standpoint of both construction and management.

William H. Carter was appointed foreman by Judge Ketch. He was a member of the criminal division of Superior Court. Carter was formerly a City Commissioner of Santa Monica and is now manager of the Carter Construction Company of that city.

Judge Ketch swore in Carter as foreman and then administered the oath to the entire body of nineteen. Two women, Mrs. Edith B. Thomas of Los Angeles and Mrs. Mary Holmes of Pasadena, are on the grand jury this year. Last year's body had no women members. Parley M. Johnson and Colfax Bell served on previous grand juries, the former for 1924 and the latter for 1925. After the administration of the oath technical instructions were issued by Judge Ketch.

Anti-Elevated Association Battles Against Railroads' Proposal

TRESTLE PLAN TO BE FOUGHT

Property Owners Combine to Keep City Safe

Campaign to Be Waged Over "Straw Ballot" Issue

Facts from Places Saddled With "Ls" Sought

Opposition to the railroads' plan for building more than four-miles of elevated structures as a substitute for a union railroad passenger station was voiced yesterday by the Anti-Elevated Association, which was organized several months ago to battle the introduction of an "L" system in Los Angeles. The officers of the association said the organization will take an active part in the campaign against the carriers' plan, which will appear as a "straw vote" proposition on the ballot at the April 26 special city election. The association will urge support for the alternative plan, the building of the union railroad passenger station on a site to be determined by the Railroad Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The officers of the Anti-Elevated Association are C. H. Roberts, president; Herman S. Shapiro, vice-president; F. M. Spinnin, secretary; and Chees with J. E. Chase, C. A. Neal, Frank Williams, Thomas Scott, Henry C. Jensen, F. N. Drake and William Casaux constitute the association's board of directors.

ORGANIZATIONS UNITE

President Roberts said yesterday: "Originally the association of property owners was organized to oppose the introduction of 'L' tracks on Sunset Boulevard, as had been suggested in various rapid-transit plans. As our officers and members began to investigate the conditions we found that the best answer 'L' tracks to be ineffective must be a city-wide one, as the rapid-transit plans propose these structures for many parts of the city. Working independently of this district anti-elevated organization can do less than what is being done if a concerted battle against the introduction of this 'L' system is made."

We have examined the Pacific Electric's part of the carriers' plan placed before the Railroad Commission as a substitute for the union passenger station, and we find that it provides for more than four-miles of grade crossings and trestles in the downtown industrial district and on the East Side. It is the beginning of the railroads' efforts to build an elevated system in Los Angeles similar to that in New York, Boston and Chicago and so we are against it.

Victory At Start

"If we can knock out these four-miles of trestles at the April 26 special election, then we shall have won a victory at the very start against the introduction of the 'L' system in Los Angeles.

"We are gathering facts from eastern cities where 'L' accidents have resulted in death and injury to hundreds of persons, and tremendous property losses and depreciation of values due to the ruination of property along streets and in districts where the railroads were allowed to build these now antiquated structures."

The headquarters of the association are at 1725 Sunset Boulevard.

A resolution presented by him at the meeting of the National Academy of Sciences in Madison last November and led to the urgent suggestion that they be called Millikan rays.

CITY ATTORNEY OPENS WAR

Stephens Demonstrates Menace to Los Angeles in Rail Scheme for Elevated Lines

suit of these investigations that Mr. Sachse reached his conclusion that a union railroad depot in the Plaza area was the solution required to correct the Alameda-street situation and to provide adequate terminal facilities. This was not until after the commission's decision of 1921 supporting the city's plan to build a trestle over the tracks of the Santa Fe, the city of Los Angeles became committed to the union depot, and the city of Los Angeles has been in the battle ever since and it is in it now.

"In these previous hearings on the problem by the Railroad Commission the Pacific Electric objected violently to being included in the hearing of the proposed railway saying that it was an electric railway and had no interest in the steam car's problem.

Now the carriers' plan proposes to dump 12,000,000 passengers a year into the Sixth and Main street station. Hundreds of thousands of these passengers now leave the cars before they reach the Main street station as to reach the Southern Pacific and other parts of the city nearer than the Sixth and Main street station.

If the carriers' plan is adopted these passengers cannot leave the cars unless they jump out of the windows of the cars and run across the trestle on which the cars will then be running. As for Hollywood, the carriers' plan does nothing for that section except to provide additional long walks and many transfers to cross the Arches or Santa Fe depot.

"It is a shame that the Southern Pacific, which is the papa of the Pacific Electric, should above the Southern Pacific's head to pull the Southern Pacific's leg out of the ground. The Railroad Commission's decision in 1921 supported the carriers' plan to build a trestle over the tracks of the Santa Fe, the city of Los Angeles. Frank Karr, as good as gold in this city. The street railway has its own problem to solve and this will be a great one as the rapid-transit plan is worked out.

PUSHED FORWARD

"But the Southern Pacific has pushed the Pacific Electric forward as part of the carriers' plan for retaining the Arches Depot, and we are being told that the plan will eliminate Pacific Electric grade crossings on Main street and east of Main street.

"As a matter of fact the testimony before the Railroad Commission showed that the plan will not eliminate a single grade crossing.

The track will remain across the street. The commissioners will not release the franchise for these crossings. And the Pacific Electric representatives admitted to the Railroad Commission that while interurban trains will run across these grade crossings and tracks in the streets.

"Does it hurt a person any less to be hit by a Pacific Electric train than by an interurban train? Cannot a flock of local cars get up traffic as much as interurban cars? And with the train congestion now in the Pacific Electric's system with trains losing time by waiting on the tracks in the track room in the station, we can expect, if the carriers' plan is adopted, to see these downtown interurban trains and during the hours when the streets are crowded. In other words, we will get both the trestle and the grade crossings if the carriers' plan is adopted."

"And the Pacific Electric officials have doubtless told you that from fifteen to twenty minutes running time per trip will be saved on interurban trains running into Los Angeles if the carriers' plan is adopted.

"We ask public support for our cause to keep Los Angeles beautiful, to keep out the destructive noisy 'L' which means death and destruction, to prevent property losses and darkened streets."

The headquarters of the association are at 1725 Sunset Boulevard.

APPROVES UNION STATION

City Planning Association Ballots on Terminal Plans; Plaza Site Wins Favor

An indication of the small popular favor being accorded the railroad plan for connecting the various terminals of the city by a system of elevated railroads, ramps and runways as a substitute for a union station was given last night in a straw vote taken at a meeting of the City Planning Association. Out of a total of forty-three ballots cast the carriers' plan received only four votes.

The Plaza as a site for a union station was given seventeen votes, while the Daum, Dunlop and Neerburg schemes, lumped under one heading, obtained a total of twenty-two, thus making the Plaza plan the individual favorite. The sound vote for the Plaza terminal site was probably due to the fact of the fact that no one was present to speak for it, while the east-of-the-river propositions all were presented by zealous advocates.

EXPERTS' PLAN

Both the Plaza station plan and the so-called carriers' plan were placed before the meeting by Secretary of the City Planning Commission, William F. Stephenson, who said as an officer of the association he preferred not to take sides, but he felt he should point out that the Plaza plan had been advocated by expert traffic engineers since 1911 and that the report submitted that early day report was submitted. That early day report, Dammon said, declared that the Plaza is the natural location for a great union terminal.

Dammon mentioned the reports of the Railroads' Terminal Committee, the Railroad Commission endorsing the Plaza as a location for a union station. He said, also, that both the Railroad Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission have consistently favored the Plaza as the logical station site.

He showed that the carriers' plan is not a union-station plan at all, but is the easiest method of meeting the public demand for improved terminal facilities for Los Angeles. He explained further that a complicated system of elevated structures of various sorts is proposed by the roads as a means of connecting their various lines.

NO LOSS INVOLVED

K. A. Jubb, president of the association, said the So-Cal plan is in no danger of incurring any loss should it be compelled to dispose of its fifteen-acre station tract on Central Avenue. This would cost not much over $200,000, he said, and the land could be sold, at a conservative estimate, for in excess of $2,000,000.

Several other schemes for a terminal, ranging from locations at Vermont and Grand Avenue to the junction of the Arroyo Seco and the Los Angeles River, were explained by half a dozen speakers.

Councilman Crissell spoke briefly, indicating that he does not have much faith in "the plan." He said, "Such a vote will settle nothing in a scientific way," he said. "If all the numerous proposals go on the market, it looks as though the Plaza plan will win."

The people are visioning a fine big station at that site and will vote with that ideal in mind."

"Wolf's" Daughter Again Involved

WORTHINGTON TANGLE AIRED

Daughter of "Wolf" Involved in Marital Mix-up

Federal Authorities Take Hand to Sift Charges

Wife Here Avers Companion of Beauty is Husband

Federal authorities yesterday took cognizance of the marital tangle enveloping Alice Worthington, daughter of the "Wolf of La Salle street," and now principal figure in a heated legal battle over the estate of her father, who died a short time ago in a government penitentiary, when local Department of Justice agents interviewed witnesses into the story of Mrs. Gertrude Pike that her husband, Harry M. Pike, had left the city in company with the Chicago beauty and without providing for the care of their infant son, Harry M. Pike, Jr.

Mrs. Pike yesterday told her story to authorities in the office of L. C. Wheeler, agent in charge of this district for the Department of Justice, and the statement was made to the Federal authorities that action will be taken at once.

Mrs. Pike yesterday reiterated her story to The Times and her statements were substantiated by Leon E. Pike, son of the man.

Leon E. Pike, son of the man, was not seen in Chicago with Miss Worthington as Mrs. Pike.

Other support to her story was given by Mrs. L. E. Pike, who with her husband was residing in Harry Pike and his wife at the time of the assumed separation, according to the stories told by all three. Mrs. Harry Pike is making her home with her brother-in-law in Graham.

Details of Mrs. Pike's story were given last night by Dr. Gertrude A. Bradford, mother of the Pike brothers, and recent Los Angeles divorcee.

Mrs. Bradford declared Pike and Miss Worthington did not sleep from her arrival in Los Angeles.

She made no statement as to whether they left together in a Moon roadster, purchased jointly by Pike and Miss Worthington, as charged by the wife.

Mrs. Bradford also declared Mrs. Pike had not deserted her husband, but stated the separation had been by mutual agreement after the couple had had numerous disagreements.

"It is simply a plan to get rid of me," Mrs. Bradford, the law wife of Mrs. Pike, stated last night.

Mrs. Bradford also declared Mrs. Pike had not deserted her husband, but stated the separation had been by mutual agreement after the couple had had numerous disagreements.

"My brother and I are the best of friends," Mrs. Bradford said. "I am the best of friends with my mother and brother."

Mr. Pike scoffed at the mutual separation charge.

From the Commercial Discount Company it was learned that paymen tments on a contract to purchase a Moon roadster had been handled by Mr. Pike, son of the man, who was stated, was made to Alice Worthington and H. M. Pike.

MARRIAGE ADMITTED; LOVE THEFT DENIED

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, March 9.—Introducing Alice Worthington in two new roles, she was seen here yesterday morning to be a bride and to be a widow.

The first presents the tall, slender, handsome blonde daughter of John W. Worthington, "Wolf of La Salle street," who expired last month in a federal cell, married woman, a marriage heretofore kept secret and presently to be dissolved in the crucible of divorce.

The second role portrays the heiress to the exceedingly mysterious fortune of her father, who, though married, stole the husband of Mrs. Gertrude E. Pike, a come young matron of Los Angeles, and came with him to Chicago. His association finds Alice in her denials.

The story of the marriage of old John's daughter was told today in these words:

"On December 13, 1922, I was married to Carlton D. Ottosen. He was then 20 years of age, and was practicing law. We were married by Judge Charles M. Foell.

"We went to live at my husband's home in St. Paul. He had a splendid character but was soon discovered that we were not congenitally mated. I was 19 years of age at the time. Nevertheless, we tried to make a go of it for six months. Finally, on April 1, 1924, I left him although I had parted good friends and are to this day."

"On April 13 I got a wire that my father had suffered a stroke of paralysis and was in a hospital in Los Angeles and never saw Mr. Ottosen again. Last October he died suit for divorce was filed.

"Of course, I shall not contest it." Ottosen, it was said, bought by his mother, is at present in Florida.

She denied he was married, but declined to answer any questions.

Reports say she and Harry Pike left Los Angeles together in late September. Mrs. Worthington entered a firm dental office. She said Pike had been deserted by his wife and intended to divorce her. She described him as "merely a friend."

WORTHINGTON'S BODY CREMATED IN EAST

(BY F. W. WILSON)

NORTH BERGEN (N. J.) March 9.—The body of John Worthington, the Chicago plunger, known as the "Wolf of La Salle street," was cremated at the New York Crematory here Saturday. His face, which was known to two middle-aged men who did not disclose their identities, preceded the body in a limousine and obtained permission to view Worthington's face, the two strangers

The body was brought here from the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, where Worthington died recently while serving a prison term.

MOST PROMINENT
Most of the feminine photographs one sees in print nowadays offer exceptionally striking displays of stockings.

PROBABLY
Probably those Mexican divorces which are very easy to get are worth just about as much as most things which are very easy to get.

WHEN LOVE IS BLINDEST
A Sacramento dispatch, based on marriage statistics, says California women are deaf to Cupid after the age of 65. And possibly love is a little bit blind to them, too, at that age.

UP-TO-DATE TOGAS
Now that women are going after Senatorial togas we may look for some dramatic changes in the style of those garments. But they may insist on having them fit a lot better than many of the men do.

HAVING TONGUES TO SPEAK
There are still a lot of pedestrains in the land. Those who fainted when Henry had put everybody on wheels are in error. It appears that more than $20,000,000 pairs of shoes were turned out in this country last year and that most of them were sold.

MANY CANDIDATES

Running for Governor is going to be a great seasonal sport. There are a good many hats in the ring, but under the operations of the primary law the track is open for any entry. Any man who isn't satisfied with the field he has to pick from may run himself.

SEEKING LIFE'S SECRET

Using dead matter the director of the Carnegie Institute of Washington has succeeded in manufacturing a cell that seems to be nearly alive. It eats and grows to a certain size, then runs down and has to be wound up. What it lacks is a self-starter.

QUICKER ACTION
The French Senate has ratified the Locarno pact by an almost unanimous vote. If the American Senate had this to ratify they would by this time be preparing to commence to begin to undertake some of the preliminaries anticipatory of the opening of some more debate.

ILLINOIS DEMOCRATS

The Democrats in Illinois are tuning up. George Brennan, the big Chicago boss, successor to Roger Sullivan, has declared himself a candidate for the United States Senate on a platform that calls for the immediate serving of light wines and beer. He will be able to make quite a dent in the Chicago vote under this play, but he will not be able to travel very far in the country districts.

PITY THE PIPERS

Now they are telling us that the Scotch people are getting sore against their bagpipes. The music doesn't appeal to them any more. Maybe this is because they have taken some of the sting out of the Scotch whisky. Even a Scot had to be pretty well pickled in order to wax enthusiastic over the pipes. There is, however, an idea that the Highland pipers realize that they are in hopeless competition with an ordinary jazz band and are willing to quit before they get drowned out.

ROAD-RUNNERS

Oriologists have been unable to discover where road-runners ran before there were roads, but they have learned some of the secrets of these birds of the chapparal, variously known as snake-killers, piassanas, ground-cuckoos and Geococcyx. Whether they build cactus fences around rattlesnakes and starve them to death is still a mooted question, but one thing seems to have been settled: road-runners freeze to avoid discovery. First, they try playing pursuers into a cactus patch. If that fails, they play "possum."

WOMEN DO THE WORK

An Ohio judge who heard over 4000 divorce cases last year doesn't like the idea of having the husband and wife compete as bread-winners. Where the husband and wife both have jobs in the business world the housekeeping is all done with a can-opener and there is practically no home life. It is easy for such a couple to turn up in the divorce court. This Judge believes that there are altogether too many positions open to married women. If the woman goes forth daily into the business world the old relationship is lost. Sometimes the wife is earning more than the husband and while she can defend her position and preserve her love for the husband the home is liable to suffer. It is well enough for the woman to be independent, but the independence that turns to scorn or disapprovement may clip a wedded ring in twain. The average man is glad to fight and work for the wife. He doesn't want to fight and work against her.

OCARNO, OR THE DELUGE
Whether the present session of the League of Nations at Geneva will become epochal in character or will pass by simply as an incident in the reconstruction of Europe cannot be determined until the effects become visible. Many things might happen; but none can say what will happen. The value of today cannot be measured until we know its influence on tomorrow. Just now an "impasse" has been reached. The straight road to giving to Germany a seat in the Council and thus putting into effect the treaties of Locarno is blocked by France, supported more or less openly by Italy. Now the delegates must look for a detour that will enable them to avoid this "impasse" and reach the coveted goal.

Under the constitution of the League the vote accepting a new member in the Council must be unanimous. One black ball prevents membership; and France demands a number of exactions before it casts a favorable vote. In fact, France is hardly in position to cast a vote at all. Such a condition is damaging to the interests of France and to the interests of the rest of Europe as well.

At Locarno Germany was promised unconditional membership in the Council; but neither France nor Italy is willing to make that promise good. The French representatives demand that Germany shall be accepted only on condition that she will vote for the acceptance of Poland as well, not because the political and economic position of that country is such as to demand such a favor, but because Poland would enter the League as an ally of France.

In other words, France demands two votes in the Council, or no League. No one can definitely say at this time whether the French representatives will persist in this demand. It may be a diplomatic gesture to feel out the temper of the League; and it may be the result of a secret understanding with Mussolini, who is reported to find some of his aspirations for extended sovereignty blocked by the League. It is even intimated that he prefers a new triple entente consisting of Italy, France and Poland to the security of the League.

Locarno gave birth to a great hope; but it was not conclusive. And all that was won at Locarno may be lost at Geneva.

That unanimous-vote restriction was placed in the constitution of the League as an inducement to this country to accept membership; but it is already apparent that such a restriction can do a great deal of harm. It has the effect of a filibuster. A single nation can nullify the influence of the League in any crisis.

Germany's absolute refusal to make any pledges concerning her role after she becomes a member is in itself significant. Once, a member of the League the Germans might play the part of the bull in the china shop. The old dictatorial spirit is not dead in either Germany or France; and with each able to block further progress by a single negative vote it appears that the course of the League, like that of true love, is not likely to run smooth.

Poland, Spain, Brazil and China demand permanent seats in the Council. Spain threatens immediate withdrawal if her request is denied. The Poles say that if they are refused they will disregard the League and proceed to smash the furniture in the Baltic sector. Brazil says that a great continent like South America cannot remain in the League unless one of the South American states is a permanent member of the Council. China's representatives are equally dictatorial, although none of them can say definitely just what they represent. There are now as many governments in China as there are colors in the spectrum, and as many shades. None can say definitely which of these governments represents the people of China.

From without, the situation recalls Shakespeare's "confusion worse confounded." There is a crash of conflicting interests. Whether harmony can issue from such discord is problematical. Will this conflict of national passions and aspirations wreck the treaties of Locarno? It is possible; but the one saving grace is that each government and each people must recognize that it is faced by a single alternative: Locarno or the deluge.

THE JAIL SCANDAL
The campaign of buck-passing and recrimination which resulted from a series of escapes from the new County Jail has not been ended by any means by the verdict of the Coroner's jury which blamed improper construction and insufficient guards for the death of one youth in an escape attempt. It is not sufficiently definite to satisfy the taxpayers who paid their good money for a real jail and real jailers and are entitled to what they paid for.

THE PUNISHMENT
There is a report that recently at Kansas City two men were sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary for stealing a nickel. The money was stolen from a poor negro. Had the coin been taken from a corporation the crew would have been raised to the sky. The negro, however, hopes to land in Argentina over a path of Bowers to the happy plaudits of the strong. He believes the surest way to be invincible is to be truly modern.

Everyone hopes that for the general good of peace and commerce King Alfonso will succeed. Spain has never lost the glamour of chivalry and gallant bearing that even in her darkest defeats has clung to her garments. That Alfonso may win back in peaceful triumphs some of the proud distinction that Philip sacrificed on the altar of war is surely a sentiment to find favor in the hearts of loyal Californians. For us of America's sunny Southwest cherish the atmosphere of poetry and romance that old Spain left as a heritage to the more vigorous race possessing today this land first dedicated to the Christian cross under the crown of Spain.

LOS ANGELES LOOKS ON
Los Angeles looks with complacency upon these signs of urban enterprise. Her new City Hall will be the tallest civic structure on the Coast, but she limits the height of her store and office buildings in a way to subserve harmony as well as beauty. The city's skyline is not a markedly jagged one.

LOS ANGELES IS WILLING
Los Angeles is willing that other cities outside of New York should emulate the Manhattan builders, who, on their narrow island, are so cramped as to feel the need of building up into the air to dizzy heights. Los Angeles has plenty of room for spacious structures of moderate height, and she has built more of them, with more acres of floor space, in the last ten years, than any other western city.

OUR PEOPLE KNOW WHAT THE SKYSCRAPER MEANS
Our people know what the skyscraper means in the way of the increased congestion of traffic, already uncomfortably crowded, and they do not patern after New York in respect to tall structures, but are content to build on sensibly conservative lines.

THE ELEMENTS ARE DANGEROUS
There are elements of danger in exceedingly tall buildings. For one thing, fires are not easily fought on the upper floors, despite the improved water-tower system. Fifteen firemen were overcome while fighting a blaze on the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth floors of the Equitable Building in New York recently. Three men living in a bungalow on the roof narrowly escaped with their lives.

IT IS TO BE TAKEN FOR GRANTED
It is to be taken for granted that as fifty to sixty-story office structures have been built others may be constructed of equal height. Los Angeles has the wealth to erect such buildings, but has no great desire to do so, and probably would not have, even if the existing law as to height restrictions were altered and the limit was the blue sky.

NEW SPANISH ARAMA

King Philip II of Spain in the year 1588 launched his famous Armada which was to go down in history as "The Invincible." It went down, but mostly to the bottom of the sea. With it, moreover, went down the hopes of Spain for the overshadowing of the Western Hemisphere. King Alfonso of Spain in the year 1926 contemplates the launching of another fleet, not for warlike conquests at sea, but for a peaceful triumph in the air. With it, moreover, may revive the prestige of Spain and proof be given to the world that her spirit, at least, is invincible.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS
The Board of Supervisors has full power to bring about such an investigation and it should do so. Obviously the inquiry must be placed in the hands of some neutral body in whom the public has full confidence; perhaps a committee of the Bar Association or of Superior Court judges. But no witness should be heard behind closed doors and no whispering allowed.

AMBITION BOOTLEGGERS
A famous bear-runner and bootlegger announced himself as a candidate for the Legislature in Illinois. He has just finished a jail sentence—his first. He was found guilty of bribing a prohibition officer. Perhaps he calculates that a term in the Legislature is better than one in jail.

LETTERS TO The Times

A Specialist in Violations

SAN PEDRO, March 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Historians and political scientists have long noted that the violations of some laws have a different significance than have the violations of other laws.

The English government once undertook to suppress the Puritans as a religious sect. The result was that the Puritans held their services secretly in violation of the law, their ministers coming to the meeting places disguised as teamsters driving carts, whip in hand. At length the Puritans revolted, cut off the head of their king and for a time ruled the land themselves.

The Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States proved well-nigh diabolical in the corruption and misgovernment it gave rise to. The amendment itself, of course, could not be repealed. The only practicability was to repeal the legislation by means of which the amendment was made effective. This was done and the Southern States were left free to deal with the problem as the needs of good government required.

The Other Fellow

SAWTELLE, March 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] At this time when the agitation is so strong for higher salaries and pension for city employees, we sometimes wonder about the other fellows, just employees (not city) who have to finally foot the bill of all city expenses by taxes and higher costs, why should city employees be pensioned after twenty years?

Indian Fighters

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I believe I voice the sentiments of every Indian War veteran when I offer thanks to Harry Car for his kind words regarding the "grim old sergeants, captains and lieutenants that starved and rode and walked and fought the savage red men through those days of obscurity."

Forgotten are the deeds of heroism, unremembered are the valiant who paid the last full measure of their devotion with the survivors of the army of the plains vainly pained with the powers that be, not for charity but justice.

Let it be said to our eternal credit that every man jack of us are proud of the part we took in the winning of the West and that we belong to an army that under any and every condition justified the proud boast that they never failed to respond to every demand made upon them.

Mexican Labor

BOSTON, March 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] For some years we have been hearing that our farmers ought to be aided by being allowed to import cheap help. Since we have shut off Europe as a main source of supply we are now getting Mexicans. They are found from Texas to the Canadian border, and the Chicago labor offices now have men from Mexico.

Of Interest to Women

What Women are Doing

By Myra Nye

Mrs. A. S. Lobinger gave a delightfully witty and interesting talk on "The Significance of Mary Lyon" at the Mount Holyoke alumnae luncheon on Saturday at the Women's Athletic Club. A vassar graduate herself, Mrs. Lobinger brought Mount Holyoke's new perspective of the work of Mary Lyon.

Speaking first of the influence of Mary Lyon on Vassar, Mrs. Lobinger told of the appointment of Elizabeth Ann Astol to Vassar. Lyon's as lady principal at Vassar, and of the customs and ideals of Mount Holyoke which she brought with her.

Speaking of education of women in different areas, Mrs. Lobinger recalled that in the time of Queen Anne a woman first had the idea of a college for women. This woman was Mary Astol and she won Queen Anne's favor. The promise of 150,000 dollars with which to start the college was given. But Mary Astol was too clever and too witty. Men disliked her. She made fun of the club of Addison, Steele, and Swift, and soon realized that she was not welcome. With the wave of feeling against Mary Astol was so strong that Queen Anne kept her $50,000 and women were not educated.

Elizabeth Ann Astol, on the other hand, Mrs. Lobinger pointed out, accomplished her purpose because she had common sense as well as a brilliant mind and, more fortunate still, she had a sense of humor.

In the education of women Mary Lyon was working for her country. She was too good a teacher to let the education of women as teachers meant in those days, when it was thought that only men could teach because it must be education by the rod. When the Civil War took men away from the usual tasks and women had to go outside the home, there were some who were "led to take up the new duties, thanks to Mary Lyon."

Mrs. Lobinger cited her talk by quoting Mary Lyon's statement that she had the "fire of education for women in her bones," and indeed it must have been that, for in the face of all the difficulties she brought her dream of a college for women to life before her death at the early age of 32.

These qualities enabled her to minimize the opposition from the men of her time, and placed her above all others in the estimation of her school.

The First Message

MR. WATSON, come here; I want you!" exclaimed Alexander Graham Bell on March 10, 1876, during an afternoon of experimentation, and over a wire connecting two rooms, the young assistant heard the words, — the first spoken sentence to be so transmitted.

Fifty years have passed. Today there are 17,000,000 telephones in the United States, giving voice to human need, as Bell's crude transmitter did then. Fire breaks out in the night; law-breakers invade a home; sickness strikes at a family circle. "Come here, I want you," is the summons, and the telephone speeds it on the way. Business of importance demands the decision of one who is on the far side of the continent. "Come here, I want you," is the summons again, and as if by magic, a personality is projected through space, questions are asked, answers given, problems solved—by telephone.

Every telephone call is an echo of the first message. For whether it is the physical presence or the listening ear that is desired, the impulse that lifts the telephone receiver is, "I want you."

ADOPTING A CHILD

"He who gives the child a treat makes joybells ring in Heaven's street; And he who gives the child a home builds a palace in Kingdom Come." —John Masefield.

There are many homeless children, and there are many childless homes, and we know above all things that every child needs a home and every home needs a child. The instinct for parenthood is very strong, normally, and it is well to let it develop and be lived to its fullest. And naturally the need for the children to be mothered and fathered is equally strong and even more important to the exercise.

Parents hesitate to adopt children for fear they will "turn out wrong." If the child is healthy physically and is normally developed to its age, then whether it turns out good or bad will depend wholly upon its environment. Doubtless that training and environment have a far greater effect upon the character than inheritance. Mental tests can be given to tell whether the child is daydreaming, normal, or backward, but especially because you can adopt an older child. There is no more danger of mental defects in these homeless children than in children who are not homeless.

Daydreaming parents said this: "The quality of our fate depends upon our ability to meet it, and that is largely the result of our early training. Besides this, what we inherit are not the actual traits of father and mother, which fathers and mothers might have been."

If there are other children in the family—oftentimes it is the one-child family that is another—the family must always remember that the little adopted child must come in for the same share of love and attention as their own; otherwise, this adopted child may not turn out well; for unhappiness in childhood is far too apt to lead to emotional and moral wrecks in later life.

It means something to adopt a child. It means that you have to train him in parenthood; have good books on child training and the like, and teach him to observe your own habits and in every way realize that your life from then on is consecrated to another life which you have taken in your charge.

If you want a baby and are in the position to adopt one, do so. I know of no advice that I can give you that will mean greater happiness to you. In practically every state and large city there are child welfare or child placement agencies. Children who have been abandoned have usually been committed by the court to the care of these agencies, and other children too. You can easily find them and think that adopting a baby or child is an altogether simple process. References are required by the agency and the conditions of the home, the family's ability to care for the child, etc., are taken into account.

If there are no child-placing agencies in your vicinity, you can apply to the local or State health or charitable official and get the name and address in that way. They will give you the directions.

It is better for adopted children to know that they are adopted, as most of the old ones do not understand; otherwise they are apt to hear it from the outside and great unhappiness may result. The answer a little adopted boy gave to a companion who twisted him with impatience was, "I'm adopted, but I'll be lived to its fullest."

And naturally the need for the children to be mothered and fathered is equally strong and even more important to the exercise.

EXPLAINS BLAST AS LIFE ENDS

Dying Man Clears Mystery When He Says Gas Caused Hotel Explosion

Death yesterday cleared up the mystery of the explosion at the Hotel Del Mar, 391 North Harbor Boulevard, early Thursday morning.

Alfred Bergesen, a marine engineer, died at the midlife hour of fatal injuries suffered in the explosion. The blast, which wrecked his room, did little damage to the rest of the hotel, although 180 scantly clad girls were driving to the street.

Police believed the explosion had originated in Bergesen's room, but were unable to learn anything of its origin. Yesterday, hotel attendants told Bergesen the end was near and advised him whether he wished to tell what he knew.

Bergesen, it is said, told him that he had several drinks that night, before returning to his room. He must have accidentally lit a cigarette, which exploded, probably by bumping into the jet. The explosion came when he lit a match for a cigarette.

According to the police report, Bergesen, in his deathbed statement, said he had turned on the gas to commit suicide, and then thinking better of it, had turned it off. He struck a match when he turned on the room air, aird sufficiently according to this report, which was contradicted by the nurse.

Bergesen was 46 years of age. His body was taken to the Palm & McInnis undertaking parlor.

INSANITY PLEA PROVES FUTILEMail Bandit Shapiro Sent to McNeil's Island*Babbles Like Child on Stand at Hearing*He and "Dago Frank" Taken to Prison

An insanity defense netted nothing yesterday for Sam Shapiro, last of the Santa Fe mail truck bandits to be sentenced, and United States District Judge James sent him to McNeil's Island penitentiary for a twenty-five-year term. Shapiro, on the stand, babbled like a child and could not answer questions coherently, but Jailer Conroy and Deputy United States Marshal Rice were aware that up to ten days ago, the man was perfectly normal.

Judge James said he will write to the warden at McNeil's Island suggesting that the watch be kept over Shapiro's mental condition. Shapiro, George A. Davidson and "Dago Frank" Teconia began their northern journey in the custody of Deputy Marshal Rice last night, much to the surprise of Teconia, who had been expecting a long stay in jail pending appeal.

When Teconia was sentenced two weeks ago to thirty-one years' imprisonment, his counsel, John F. Grimes, indicated he would file an appeal and Judge James gave him ten days in which to file his formal motion. As the motion was several days overdue yesterday Judge James made out Teconia's sentence.

Five of the six Santa Fe bandits are thus serving terms, one being still at large. Robert E. Cargo, a one-armed bandit testified against Teconia, and was sent to Leavenworth to serve a prison sentence. Charles (Chuck) Wagner, who with Cargo, Davidson and Shapiro, pleaded guilty, was sent north several weeks ago. All the cases were prosecuted by Dep. U.S. Atty. Ohannesian.

CAFE NOTES

The Montmartre in Hollywood will celebrate one of the most elaborate nights in its history this evening when Metropolitan Theater Night is observed. Addie McPhail, motion-picture actress, will be the guest of honor.

The number of vaudeville acts from the prologue at the Metropolitan Theater where the Paramount picture "Dancing Mothers" is now being shown have been increased to provide a special program as an added attraction. The entertainment will include several piano and song numbers by Linda May McPhail, George Givot, the "singing fool," will sing several numbers, and will execute a few stunts in the manner of a comedian. Assistant City Attorney Whittaker stated that the notice of sale had been so drawn that the receivers of the franchises could not sell stock or use them as the main stock promotion that the franchisees would revert to the city after ten years and that there was a purchase clause which could be exercised after five years.

The stations will have entrances on the sidewalk, one inch wide and will be beneath the eaves and gutters, nineteen feet wide, thirty feet along one street and fifty feet along another, it was advised.

Miss McPhail will act as judge in the semifinals of the Gables Beach Club dancing contest.

Not only the shamrock green of St. Patrick's Day, but also the delicacies of Erin's fare are to have part in the entertainment being prepared by Harry M. Miller for the "Tipperary Festival" on the night of the 17th inst., in Miller's Cafe Lafayette.

Miller has called into consultation several well-known Irish chefs to assist in preparing a special menu typical of the cuisine of famed Dublin restaurants.

Irish mannequins will present advance copies of military wardrobe in a fashion review to be presented in connection with the festival. Miller plans to make the display of dernier cri gowns and wraps a regular weekly feature in the Lafayette, following the festival.

EXTRADITION OF PASTOR REQUESTED

Faces Charges of Forgery, Embezzlement and Also Seduction in Philadelphia

An extradition warrant for the return to Pennsylvania of Rev. Thomas Hubert Jones, now held in the Los Angeles jail but once pastor of the fashionable St. Barbara Methodist Episcopal Church of Philadelphia, to face charges of forgery, embezzlement and seduction was issued by the Governor's office yesterday at Sacramento, according to dispatches received here.

Rev. Jones was found a few weeks ago living at 1017 South Bixel street with Miss Mildred Lever, 19 years of age, a Philadelphia church choir singer, by Department of Justice agents and arrested on the Federal Act charge. These were later dropped but he was rearrested on warrants supplied by Philadelphia authorities.

According to the dispatches from Sacramento, Detectives W. H. MacLean and J. A. Coughlin of the FBI, Philadelphia, who came to California in connection with the case, Jones is 47 years of age and has a wife and two children in the East. He is especially charged with having received $2,000 contributed to him by James Hall, a member of his congregation. The $2,000 was given by Jones, it is asserted, to buy an automobile, the choir singer to a California nine months ago. The girl is at present in care of the juvenile authorities pending her return to her parents in Philadelphia.

"Dashing dances, daring doings, pep for the jaded, joy for the peaked, and entertainment for everybody," are promised.

Frank Sebastian, manager of the Cotton Club in Culver City, announced that this evening will be celebrated as carnival night in his popular "swank" cafe. A Charleson dancer is planned as a part of the evening's entertainment program.

The silver loving cup offered in the dancing contest last Sunday evening was won by Miss Margaret Nichols of Los Angeles.

Henry Whitman, Olympic Auditorium referee, was host last Sunday evening to a large party at the Cotton Club.

Lunches and dinners "above the average" are served in the Aztec Hotel in Monrovia, as stated by N. H. Edgar, owner and manager of that hotel. "California's most unique hotel," Mr. Edgar reports an excellent winter's season to date in his cafe's patronage.

Frank A. Wells, manager of the Douglas Hotel in Culver City, announced that this evening will be the recent opening of a cafe in connection with his hotel.

Mr. Wells promises "service and good food" to the cafe's patrons.

Evening "shoes of black with the heels decorated with azure blue beads are being worn by society women in Europe.

COMMISSIONERS ASK FOR POLICE BADGES

The Building and Safety Commissioners want to be like all other city officials and bear upon their breast plates gilded metal badges.

Yesterday they called the attention of the Council to the fact that they had been overlooked when the "buzzers" were passed around.

The buzzers were referred to the Police Commission.

The Building and Safety Commissioners said they wanted the badges so they could get through the fire lines, the minimum of the law hitherto restraining them.

COMFORT STATIONS DISCUSSED

Council Votes to Offer Thirty Franchises for Downtown Points

Franchises to construct thirty public comfort stations at fifteen downtown intersections will be offered for sale, the Council yesterday voting to take such action.

Yesterday's action, it was explained, does not compel the city to grant the franchises. The master will be open for investigation for some time to come.

Assistant City Attorney Whittaker stated that the notice of sale had been so drawn that the receivers of the franchises could not sell stock or use them as the main stock promotion that the franchisees would revert to the city after ten years and that there was a purchase clause which could be exercised after five years.

yesterday was presented by Police Commissioner Birnbaum with the Police Commission's trophy for the best pistol shot in the police department.

The cup was formerly held by Chief Heath. Heath won it with a score of 342 out of a possible 400, but was forced out of competition by the pressure of training and Davis made a score of 338 of a possible 400, qualifying him as an expert marksman. Commissioner Birnbaum complimented Heath on his work of improving the marksmanship of the department.

GRANT TITLE TO RANCHO ATTACKED

Seventeen File Claims on Ventura County Tract of 160 Acres

Guadalasco Rancho, a Spanish grant of 160 acres, during the last two days has developed into a target for sharpshooting homesteaders who are trying to find weakness in the property's title and gain easy possession of the valuable beach property in Ventura county.

Yesterday's application in the United States Land Office brought a total of sixteen filings to seventeen, a far less spectacular raid than one made six weeks ago upon the Rancho Los Palos Verdes and one made a year ago upon the Irvine ranch in Orange county.

"We will accept any filings upon the land," Brainerd Smith, register of the Land Office, said yesterday, "but there is absolutely no guarantee that we will accept either." Despite previous failure to raid the title to Spanish grants in Southern California, there still seems to be many people who do not believe titles to these properties are valid and have been upheld for more than three-quarters of a century."

The ten months of married life of Betty E. Bonter and Gordon A. Bonter was anything but peaceful, according to testimony adduced yesterday in Judge Fleming's court, where Mrs. Bonter was awarded a divorce.

Mrs. Bonter declared her husband had a violent temper, threw milk bottles at her, broke up a set of dishes and finally hurled a bottle of catsup through the air with her neck acting as the target. Neighbors thought the catsup on her neck was blood and summoned police, according to the testimony.

FIGHTS FOR VINDICATION*Former Fresno Official Convicted of Embezzlement Gets Supreme Court Rehearing*

Arguments for a rehearing in the case of Charles F. Dillon, former Commissioner of Finance at Fresno, convicted of embezzlement, were heard by the State Supreme Court yesterday. Dillon has served his time, his attorney, Carl Lindsay, declared, but he desires to be freed from the stigma of conviction and wants restoration of his right to hold public office.

Dillon, it was said, was acquitted of several counts of the charges brought against him, the charge on which he was convicted concerning his asserted action, as purchasing agent for the city, in buying, with city money, such articles as automobile tires. Through this means, it was said, he obtained the articles at a discount, disposed of them to friends and then reimbursed the city. The practice, it was declared, was merely a favor to friends.

Attorney Lindsay believed such practices as were concerned in the case at issue were general in the State.

"Then," said Webb, "there is the greater reason for a precedent."

Justice Lennox remarked that no city or county official should ever sign a personal check with the name of Lindsay, said, may have been doubtful technically but there was no moral turpitude involved.

Dillon was convicted in Superior court, the verdict being reversed by the District Court of Appeal at San Francisco, which public funds.

In court here for an asserted illegal operation and finally the case was dismissed. He is practicing in Mexico.

The court will hear and pass on several cases today.

The case of Dr. Franklin E. Kerr, recently tried and convicted on a charge of sending poisonous candy to his wife through the mails, was adjourned until July meeting of the board. It being pointed out that Dr. Kerr had appealed his case to the higher courts.

Jacubowitz, Freed having fled a suit a week ago against Jacobowitz for the asserted alienation of the affections of Mrs. Freed. In this case, Mrs. Freed charged that she remained away from him for a period of ten months because of the asserted attentions shown her by Jacobowitz.

Jacubowitz asserted in his complaint that he had advised his lawyer to the Freed's and that on the day he made the loan, Freed introduced his wife and told Jacobowitz they ought to associate socially.

Jacubowitz, half a year ago, took the Freeds for automobile rides on several occasions and that Mrs. Freed called him on the telephone and invited him to come to the Freed home when Freed was absent. She professed love for him and told him her husband would not care if they associated together, according to the complaint.

Jacubowitz stated the defendants then asked him to cancel their note securing the loan. He advised them that he had no sufficient funds to meet their demands, they threatened to shoot him and inform his wife of his asserted relations with Mrs. Freed.

Jacubowitz filed his action through Attorney William P. Redmond.

Judge Ponders Ownership of Durkin Auto

While Martin Durkin is in Chicago awaiting trial on a charge of killing a Federal officer, Judge Guerin of the Superior Court here is pondering the question of who owned the automobile in which he traveled to Los Angeles a few months ago.

Judge Guerin has under submission the suit of L. H. Swartz of Chicago for recovery of the car. Swartz claimed he owned it and that he had been shot. It was found in possession of a used-car dealer here, who had purchased it from R. E. Savage. Savage testified he had bought it in good faith from "Rogers Kingman" and identified a picture of Durkin as Kingman.

Durkin was found here with a girl he was said to have married in the Middle West.

TREES TO BE PLANTED ON LA FOLLETTE HILL

The Los Angeles County Progressive Central Committee at its meeting last night voted to conduct a tree-planting session at La Follette Knoll, formerly known as Inspiration Point, in Good Hope Valley, near Lake Elsinore, next Saturday.

The tree-planting will take place on a one-acre plot donated some months ago as a La Follette memorial by J. O. Walser. According to the plan, one redwood tree will be planted for each county in California, a fir tree for each State in the Union, and an oak for the United Veterans of the World War, a political organization. The plot will be used as a park for members of the latter organization. Interested parties are invited by Helga Morberg Qually, secretary of the Progressive Committee, to be at the knoll by 4 p.m. Saturday.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH!
SANTA ANA, March 2.—The case of motherhood was heard in Mrs. Delona F. Bruce's defense in Justice Morrison's court today. The real mother of Fern, born to Mrs. Bruce, whom Mrs. Bruce claimed as her own, appeared and called the other woman as a witness.

The real son-in-law arrived save his young son-in-law from State prison and caused dismissal of the charge against him.

Wilbur Anderson, the defendant, was in court for preliminary hearing today. On his first appearance, a few days ago, he had questioned the authenticity of Fern's birth, and was postponed until the records could be investigated.

Mrs. Bruce had sworn that Fern was born to her at Presenton.

She denied that Fern had been adopted at Phoenix, as she claimed.

Arrival of Fern's real mother, Mrs. Bruce, refuted the foster mother's story and left the prosecution without evidence upon which to proceed. Testimony of the girl's real mother could not be given because she had never known her and it could not be proved that she had knowledge of the girl's age, when she swore she was

PERJURY HINTED IN MEYER CASE

Court Asks Prosecutor to Make Inquiry

Divorce of Rich Pasadena Resident Revoked

Wife Will Seek Decree and Property Division

The domestic and financial disputes of Jacob Meyer, South Pasadena millionaire, and Mrs. Kittle Meyer are to go back again into the civil courts of Los Angeles and may ultimately lead into the criminal courts.

Within a few hours after Superior Judge Craig had handed down a decision reviving an earlier divorce decree, divorced Mr. Meyer in October, 1924, Attorney Robert E. Austin, representing Mrs. Meyer, announced that preparations are to be made immediately for the institution of proceedings to obtain a decree of divorce and a new property settlement for his client.

At the time attaches of the District Attorney's office were studying the voluminous evidence of Judge Craig's decision in which it was set forth that perjury had been committed during the trial which resulted in the revocation of Meyer's decree.

DIRECTORS INVESTIGATION

In his decision, Judge Craig requested the District Attorney's office to conduct an investigation of the trial because of the apparent perjury in the testimony of certain witnesses.

Judge Craig held as a fact certain portions of the testimony of Mrs. Meyer, which had been fully contradicted by Meyer and his son Morris.

The court's findings supported practically all of the amazing assertions made by Mrs. Meyer during the course of the trial. He found that "Meyer tired of his wife and decided to take steps to get rid of her and get title of as much of their property as he could; that pursuant thereto, he employed George Keller to approach his wife and to use his efforts to have intimate relations with her; that by prearrangement with Meyer, Keller engaged in a trust with Mrs. Meyer in the Meyer home in June, 1924, and that Mrs. Meyer and Keller were in a compromising position. Meyer entered the room with witnesses."

TESTIMONY CONFLICTS

The perjury question rose over the testimony regarding Keller. Mrs. Meyer testified that Keller, Mrs. Violet Keller, his wife, and Mrs. M. J. Lynch occupied the 2nd floor of 1150 Oakland avenue, South Pasadena, during the month of November, 1924.

Mrs. Meyer, father and son, denied that this was true. Mrs. Meyer was supported in her assertion by sworn testimony given by Mrs. Keller and Mrs. Lynch.

Attorney Austin, representing Mrs. Meyer, declared last night that the judge's decision cleared all else but the way for Mrs. Meyer to file suit for divorce and to demand a new property settlement.

"While the court failed to set aside a property settlement made at the time Meyer obtained his interim divorce decree, his decision is of such a nature as to make the settlement along with the decree," Mr. Austin declared. "We intend to file suit as soon as possible for divorce and for a property settlement."

Driver Killed in Crash of Truck and Street Car

Arthur Nelson, a truck driver who resided at 1223 South Hill street, was almost instantly killed last night when he was crushed between the side of his truck and a street car at Forty-first street and Broadway. His body was taken to Sharp and Sons mortuary.

According to University Station police, who investigated, Nelson was turning at the corner on the wrong side of the street when he saw that his truck and the street car were about to collide. He jumped but failed to clear the way and was caught between the vehicles. Practically every bone in his body was crushed.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, March 9.—The body of Murphy Flint, 15-year-old boy who was drowned here while bathing with a companion on the beach, was washed up yesterday at the foot of Fifty-third Place early tonight. The body was recovered by the police and removed to the Coroner's and Coroner's undertaking parlor. Young Flint, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Flint, of 423 East Seventh street, was seized with cramps while bathing and was unable to swim with his cousin, which caused him to drown. The drowning occurred at the foot of Cherry street.

Snoozing Tootie

Little Ruth and the rest of the family were at the dinner table when suddenly the child held up her finger as a signal for silence. "Sh-h-h!" she whispered. "My foot's gone asleep; listen and see if it aches." —[Boston Transcript.]

AT LIBERTY PENDING HIGH COURT DECISION

ARGUMENTS IN DAY ACID CASE HEARD

State Supreme Justices Ask Oral Pleas on Issue Raised by Dual Charge

The State Supreme Court yesterday heard oral arguments in the case of Grace Bernice Day, who was convicted in Superior Court on a charge of throwing acid upon her husband, Darby Day, Jr., at Beverly Hills, and later discharged by the Second District Court of Appeal. Deputy State Attorney-General Widney took the case to the Supreme Court for a rehearing.

The Superior Court jury convicted Mrs. Day on a charge of assault with a caustic chemical, and acquitted her on a charge of assault to commit a felony. Mrs. Day, a maid of a caustic chemical. The Court of Appeal sustained Mrs. Day's position. Mrs. Lewis, who has the two counts were the same and held the verdict to be incorrect, said.

The finding of the Court of Appeal had been given by Justice Curtis, since appointed to the State Supreme Court. Justice Curtis was among the members of that court that heard the arguments yesterday.

It had been at first agreed to submit the case on briefs, but Justice Lennon asked for oral arguments on the ground that the "counts" raised in one of great interest.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Becker held that the two counts concerned two separate offenses of a similar nature, the commission of a physical assault, the other the intent.

Justice Lennon remarked that if the two counts were for the same offense, committed by the same means, there was ground for argument. If the counts for the same offense, out of the same circumstances, by different means, then a conviction on one might be justifiable.

Mrs. Day is at liberty on $10,000 bond. She is believed to be in Chicago.

RECORD CATCHES AT HERMOSA BEACH

Jack Braun and His String

Fishermen have been making record catches in Hermosa Beach during the past few days, according to Capt. J. M. Anderson of the fishing barge Olympia.

Yesterday Jack Braun of Jack's Cafe at Hermosa Beach landed a 100-pound yellowtail, three-pound halibut and several other varieties from the large.

The waters of the south bay contain many varieties of saltwater fish, including the jewfish, mackerel, snell, halibut and mackerel, according to Capt. Anderson.

In describing the advent of "hot dogs" into England, the London newspaper claimed that "such

Third Article Tells How Patriots Triumphed

The third article on the Constitution written by Jessamine De Haven Lewis for the aid of the entrants in the National Oratorical Contest in the territory sponsored by the Pittsburgh Sun, deals with the various plans of government submitted at the Constitutional Convention, and traces the steps that led up to the acceptance of the plan that was finally adopted. The article is reprinted by permission of the Sun.

THE GREAT COMPROMISES
The Virginian plan followed Montesquieu's division of government into three departments, executive, legislative and judiciary. It enumerated the powers of the Federal government and listed the restrictions placed upon Congress by the Constitution, and executive appointments by Congress, and apportioned representation in the Congress according to population.

Though this article was the work of a Virginian, it was impossible to adopt it. Particulars were drawn among the delegates and it was only after consenting to Franklin's suggestion of compromise that they could possibly come to an agreement.

Accordingly, there were three great compromises:

When the small States fearing they would be swamped if representation were apportioned according to population threatened to withdraw.

The Compromise, however, was established.
